BEIRUT REPORT STATES ACUTE OIL SHORTAGE IN JORDAN HAS BEEN EASED

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A U. S. Navy spokesman today said that no American planes have been shot down by anti-aircraft fire from Syria.

He was commenting on an announcement from Damascus Thursday that an unidentified jet fighter plane was shot down while intruding on the air space of the United Arab Republic. The Syrian announcement claimed that the downed plane crashed and burned in Lebanese territory.

Jordan's acute oil shortage has been eased, informed sources there said today.

Rebate Paid Defunct Firm Under Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leo Wolff, former president of Raylaine Worsteds, Inc., stood his ground today that the $41,284 penalty rebate the company got on a government contract didn't depend on influence of Sherman Adams or anyone else.

In fact, Wolff added, "A good public question to ask is 'why didn't we get interested on our money too?'"

While the rebate issue was pending Adams made inquiries to the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals about the case of the now-defunct Manchester, N.H., company.

The White House says the inquiries were routine and involved no effort to use influence.

Talking to a newsmen today before testifying at a closed-door session of the House Armed Services Investigations subcommittee, Wolff and Edwin McDermott, a Philadelphia attorney who represented Raylaine, said company officials wrote not only to Adams but to numerous members of Congress. They were seeking help in reversing a World War II action in which the company was penalized $49,984 for late delivery to the Army of serge cloth.

They said there was no concealment and no question of improper influence.

Nervy Aeronauts Plan Jaunt Into Space 16 Miles

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—A pair of nervy aeronauts today prepared for a 24-hour jaunt into space slung beneath a paper-thin plastic balloon.

Navy Cmdr. Malcolm D. Ross and former Navy balloonist M. Lee Lewis were scheduled to take off on a flight designed to carry them nearly 16 miles above the earth.

The takeoff is contingent on late weather reports.

The balloon, 172 feet in diameter, will be launched from a deep open pit iron mine near Crosby, Minn.

Ross and Lewis will be testing the "strato-lab" aluminum gondola and its complex scientific equipment for maintaining an artificial atmosphere.

Equipment inside the ball-shaped gondola will provide them with oxygen and air conditioning, and will remove the excess moisture and impurities in the air they breathe.

Too Early to Tell If Eye Transplant Was Successful

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Physicians at the Veterans Hospital here said today it was too early to tell whether they had been successful in an operations transplanting the cornea of a dead man's eye to the right eye of a Fred O'Donnell of Lewisburg, Pa.

The surgery was performed last July 9, but the bandages have not yet been removed. A hospital spokesman said O'Donnell is "in fine spirits." He will be hospitalized indefinitely, the spokesman said.

O'Donnell first came to the hospital here last March. But he was sent home and was told to remain on call. As soon as the hospital was in possession of an eye they promised to notify him.

Late on the afternoon of July

The first oil from the port of Aqaba has reached Amman, Jordan's capital, in 140 big tank trucks which brought it from the British-owned tanker Clyde Explorer.

An American-owned tanker is coming to Aqaba with an additional shipment and the operation is set to proceed smoothly henceforth. The oil presumably is coming from the Persian Gulf.

The U.S. Embassy announced the end of an emergency airlift in which huge C130s have been bringing oil during the night hours on a crash basis. The embassy said the airlift is no longer necessary.

Jordan had been dependent upon Iraq for its oil and the revolt in Iraq July 14 ended that source of supply.

Breaking the back of the oil shortage is particularly important to western sections of Palestine, where the shortage raised the possibility of political repercussions.

All was quiet with the U.S. Marines in Lebanon Thursday night, a Marine spokesman reported. On previous nights U.S. troops have been harassed by rebel sniper fire.

In Cairo, an Egyptian editor who accompanied President Nasser on his secret flight to Moscow quoted Soviet Premier Khrushchev as declaring, "We Russians have weapons which could easily turn the U.S. 6th Fleet into a mass of molten steel for its sailors."

At the United Nations, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld announced he was setting up a seven-man group to advise him on enlarging the U.N. observer group in Lebanon.

The observers are working under a Security Council mandate to report any illegal shipments of arms and men into Lebanon from Syria. The Lebanese government has charged President Nasser's United Arab Republic has been helping the rebels via its Syrian province. By sending in more observers, Hammarskjöld hopes to make it possible for the Americans to withdraw.

Priest Home After Long Imprisonment in China

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Rev. Cyril Wagner is back home today after a five-year imprisonment in Red China.

The slender Franciscan priest, ill with asthma and tired from his long journey which started in Shanghai last month, returned to Pittsburgh Thursday night.

Some 25 relatives met him as he stepped from an airplane. An unidentified man approached the Roman Catholic priest and said: "Let a good Protestant shake your hand, father."

News men questioned the 52-year-old priest, a native of nearby Sharpsburg, as he stood under an umbrella in the rain.

Father Wagner said his Communist captors mistreated him physically and mentally. He described the people of China as "warm and lovable."

8. O'Donnell received the good word. He checked into the hospital on midnight of the 9th, and was operated on that same day. The reason for the rush, a spokesman said, was that these operations have to be performed within a certain span of time or the cornea transplant won't succeed.

Meanwhile, at home, Mrs. O'Donnell waits anxiously with their four children for word on whether her husband will see again.

See said she is confident the operation was a success and her husband will be able to see from the eye soon.

He lost most of his sight when his eye became infected during World War II.

1958 Appropriation Bills To Total About 70 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Except for some minor odds and ends and some compromises to be worked out with the Senate, the House today closed the book on appropriation bills for 1958.

Based on House action alone where final passage has not been completed, the prospect is for total appropriations of about 70 billion dollars for the year. But later Senate actions could raise that total substantially, especially for defense and foreign aid.

The 70 billion figure would represent a cut of about $1,600,000,000 from President Eisenhower's request for $71,539,831,539 in new money. Last year Congress cut nearly five billions from Eisenhower's requests.

The last of 20 regular, supplemental and deficiency bills sailed through the House Thursday by voice vote and went to the Senate. It allots $1,218,815,000 for construction programs for the Army, the Navy and the Air Force at home and abroad. This is 511 million dollars less than the President requested, with the Senate still to act.

The Senate Appropriations Committee voted to add $1,800,000,000 to funds the House already has voted for defense, with most of the extra money for more air power.

The Senate is expected also to increase amounts the House voted for foreign aid. The House cut $597½ million dollars off the total of an authorization bill, and Eisenhower is pushing for restoration of most of this amount.

The winners were announced before an audience of 4,000 at Long Beach Municipal Auditorium after the 35 appeared individually before the judges, first in bathing suits and then in formal gowns.

Miss Mexico, Elvira Rissler, 19, of Mexico City, died the scene still in her bathing suit with tears streaming from her eyes.

Miss Uruguay, Graciela Scorza, 18, of Asuncion, wept so hard she couldn't stand. She sat on a bench crying until her chaperone quieted her sobs with cups of cold water and words of comfort.

Thursday night's lucky 15 will be the ones to go through the emotional wringer tonight. Their numbers first will be trimmed to five and then a few minutes later the new Miss Universe will be proclaimed.

Wheeling Visited by A Record Downpour

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Wheeling had more rain in 45 minutes Thursday night than in all of July a year ago.

One and three-fourths inches fell as storm sewers overflowed, small runs backed up into homes and electric power was interrupted.

City officials said that about 20 homes were flooded in the Edgewood section, some at depths up to about a foot. Parts of Wheeling Island were without electricity for about three hours.

The thunderstorm produced traffic snarls in some sections. There were no reports of injuries.

Polio Cases Running Less Than Half in 1957

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of polio cases this year is running less than half of last year's figure.

The Public Health Service said today 913 cases were reported by the states up to July 19 this year, while 1,379 were listed in the similar 1957 period.

Of this year's cases, 438 had been listed as paralytic compared with 780 up to this time a year

Ousted Iraqi Minister Blasts Western Powers

LONDON (AP)—The ousted Iraqi minister to Britain charged today the "creation of the synthetic state of Israel by the Western Powers" was the sole cause of Middle East troubles.

Tarik Al Askari was running the embassy here at the time of the revolt.

He told a news conference the Western Powers "must realize that the tragedy of the creation of the synthetic state of Israel, entailing as it did the eviction of a million Arabs from their homes, is the sole cause of all the present human suffering and misery in the Middle East today."

Al Askari is the nephew of the slain Premier Nuri Said.

The amendments was debated Thursday at the opening session of the auxiliary's convention.

Top candidates for office include Mrs. Austin C. Dille of Waynesburg and Mrs. Jess Juliane of Erie, for president, and Mrs. Eleanor O. Hillier of Renovo and Mrs. Martin Eshelman of Lancaster, for secretary-treasurer.

HELD IN INDONESIA

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Foreign Minister Subandrio told newsmen today captured American flier Allen Lawrence Pope will be tried soon before a military tribunal.

He did not name a date.

Pope, 30, of Miami, Fla., was captured when his rebel-owned B25 bomber was shot down over East Indonesian waters May 18. He was brought here May 18.

London Says Talks Cannot Start Monday

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—The United States and Britain agreed today to tell the impatient Soviet Union that all arrangements for U.N. summit talks should be made by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, diplomats reported.

As the Soviet press demanded the West agree to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plans for a summit meeting without delay, diplomats made clear the West is unwilling to let him call all the signals.

Diplomats reported President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan and very likely Premier de Gaulle will tell Khrushchev before Sunday that:

1. There is absolutely no chance of summit talks on the Middle East crisis beginning Monday, as Moscow suggested;

2. They are ready to attend a top-level conference in New York as soon as it can be arranged to the convenience of the countries and statesmen concerned; and

3. Hammarskjöld should be authorized to consult immediately with the permanent delegates of the interested powers on such matters as starting day, composition of the conference, rules of procedure and so on.

The Western leaders will propose no firm dates but it is known they consider Aug. 8 the earliest possible time, with Aug. 11 possibly the latest.

Informants said Western leaders are determined to resist Khrushchev's rush tactics. They feel the rush tactics are intended to give an exaggerated impression of the peril of war.

The Western proposal that all summit arrangements be left to Hammarskjöld has several advantages in the U.S. and British view.

It would make clear the summit conference is an operation of the United Nations and would make more correspondence with Moscow on details unnecessary.

British officials reported the 15 Atlantic Allies have dropped plans for a special meeting of foreign ministers in Paris next week to coordinate policies on summit talks. It was decided the NATO Council can handle the situation.

Defense Reorganization Awaits Ike Signature

WASHINGTON (AP)—The big battle over defense reorganization is over. Only President Eisenhower's signature is needed to put it in effect.

Congress completed action on the once controversial issue Thursday when both House and Senate quickly passed a compromise reorganization bill by voice vote.

Eisenhower is expected to give his quick approval. He said he is satisfied with the bill, which gives him most of the authority he sought to reorganize the nation's complex and sprawling defense forces and to streamline the chain of command.

Research Report Shows Decline in Business

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh's Bureau of Business Research reports a decline in district business for last week.

The bureau said Thursday its index fell to 87 per cent of the 1947-49 average last week compared to 90.6 per cent recorded the preceding week. Moderate gains in shipments and industrial production were offset by a pronounced drop in the adjusted volume of trade.

Three Blonde Kiddies Drown While Wading

MARS, Pa. (AP)—"They were just like all kids... excited about one thing one time and another thing another time... all three were blond-haired and stuck together all the time..."

This was Mrs. Herbert Brooks' comment after her three grandchildren, William, 8; Rhonda, 7; and Michael, 6, drowned Thursday in a pond near their home.

The children's mother, Mrs. William Brooks, told firemen the children were wading when one of them apparently fell into deeper water, dragging the others down. She said they always held hands while wading.

Nonunion Church Pews Are Involved In Wide Dispute

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Everybody concerned is appealing the case of the nonunion church pews. The five-man National Labor Relations Board itself must decide whether an examiner's findings were just right, too hard or too soft.

The case involves complaints by the Endicott Church Furniture Co., Warsaw, Ind., that the Carpenters Union has boycotted installation of Endicott-made pews in churches around Chicago, Minneapolis, New York and Detroit.

The union lost an NLRB bargaining rights election held in March 1956 among the 60 employees of the Endicott firm.

The company contends the union since then has been trying to stop churches from installing Endicott pews, as a means of forcing Endicott to capitulate and put its workers under union contract.

An NLRB trial examiner, C. W. Whittemore, has ruled there was insufficient evidence at a series of hearings to support these charges.

But Whittemore did find that in the case of the Nassau Baptist Church, East Williston, N.Y., the union illegally persuaded union workers to go on strike to stop nonunion Endicott workers from installing pews.

In that instance, the pastor, the Rev. Albert P. Seibert, got the nonunion Endicott men to return to Indiana and had his parishioners finish installing the pews.

Whittemore recommended requiring the Carpenters Union to agree in writing that it would not foment further strikes to prevent installation of Endicott products.

Whittemore's report also speaks about Carpenters' pressure on a chapel construction job at the U.S. Air Force base at Bunker Hill, Ind., to prevent installing of Endicott pews. But this was not litigated.

U.S. Plane Crashes Into Japanese Village

TOKYO (AP)—A U.S. Air Force jet bomber making a forced landing crashed into a small Japanese village today, killing the pilot and two Japanese boys.

The navigator of the twin-engine B57, 1st Lt. Norman H. Silver, 27, Portland, Ore., a Japanese woman.

He was injured. Air Force doctors treated 23 other villagers for lesions and her two children were seriously injured.

The name of the dead pilot was withheld.

The bomber developed engine trouble while on a training flight from Johnson Air base, 30 miles west of Tokyo. The pilot tried to make it to the base but crashed in Irumagawa village, a quarter of a mile from the base runway.

House Group Opposing Ike Attending Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Foreign Affairs Committee members today were reported convinced that the Soviets will try to use a U. N. summit meeting as a propaganda sounding board.

They oppose President Eisenhower's attending under such circumstances.

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.) said Asst. Secretary of State William Macomber was given this advice during a secret briefing on the Middle East crisis late Thursday.

LATEST NOTE TO MOSCOW SLOWS DOWN KHRUSHCHEV RUSH FOR "THE SUMMIT"

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today dispatched a note to Soviet Premier Khrushchev insisting that arrangement for any U. N. summit conference on the Middle East crisis must be made by the Security Council at New York.

The note was written by Eisenhower and Dulles Thursday and cleared with British and French leaders early today. It was handed to Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov by Dulles at the State Department a few minutes after 1 p. m. The White House arranged for its publication about an hour later.

It was learned in advance, however, that the essence of the President's message was that it should be up to the Security Council itself to set the time and determine the composition and work out other plans for the meeting.

This decision came after Khrushchev's acceptance Wednesday of a British proposal to hold the meeting in the U. N. Security Council.

Eisenhower thus slowed down the pell mell rush to the summit which Khrushchev seemed to set off a week ago with his demand for an immediate emergency meeting at Geneva.

Eisenhower also was obviously intent upon having the Security Council fix the ground rules for the meeting. He and Dulles consider this preferable to any kind of a special five-power conference outside the U. N. or originally suggested by Khrushchev.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said that was his understanding of a summary received by senators of the President's note to Khrushchev.

William Macomber, assistant secretary of state, gave members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee a summary of the note at a closed-door session.

At the White House, newsmen were told that Eisenhower's note was on its way to Moscow, or shortly would be.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the U. S. note has been cleared with the French and British, but he declined to say whether the version drafted by Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles was altered after the consultations.

Fulbright told reporters after a 40-minute session with Macomber that this was his understanding of the note: "By and large the attitude of this government will be that this will be a meeting of the United Nations Security Council and not just a meeting of the heads of state near the U. N. Security Council."

Fulbright said the note insists that neither the Soviets nor the United States should pick and choose those who would be invited to attend. (Turn to Page Nine)

Bow and Arrow Back In Use by Lebanese

BEIRUT (AP)—A weapon of bygone wars—the bow and arrow—has come back into use in the Lebanese rebellion. But now it has a modern warhead.

The rebels are shooting cone-shaped dynamite charges into government positions with ordinary bows.

The unorthodox weapon was displayed by a rebel officer. A dynamite charge was attached to a heavy arrow. As soon as the fuse is lit, the arrow aims the arrow on a steep trajectory, timing it to explode just before hitting the ground up to 100 yards away.

Hope Dims That Wickie the Space Mouse Will Be Found

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Specially equipped ships and planes continued searching the Atlantic today but hope dimmed that Wickie the space mouse would be recovered inside a nose cone after an intercontinental range flight.

The tiny white mouse was enclosed in the nose cone of a Thor-Able rocket that streaked 6,000 miles through space Wednesday.

The recovery unit resumed the search in the South Atlantic near Ascension Island, but Air Force officials said today's effort probably would be the last attempt to find the nose cone.

The hunt was called off temporarily Thursday night when darkness closed in and the searchers failed to receive signals from a beacon transmitter inside the nose cone recovery package. Once the nose cone hit the water after a blazing, 12,000 m.p.h. re-entry from space, a 27-inch orange and blue balloon inflated automatically. The balloon floated on the surface with the nose cone suspended 30 feet below, but it appeared as a dot in the wide expanse of ocean.

If Wickie still was alive she had enough oxygen, food and water to last for about six weeks. Technicians still were analyzing telemetry data which will tell how the mouse's heart reacted to the hectic journey.

The Army apparently solved the 1,500-mile re-entry problem by recovering two full-scale Jupiter IRBM nose cones, but re-entry at intercontinental range still was a challenge.

Members Are Prepared To Meet Quickly

By MAX HARRISON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Western sources said today the U. N. Security Council probably will be called into session early next week to work out arrangements for a summit meeting here.

These quarters said they have been given the definite impression that the Soviet Union will accept President Eisenhower's reported proposal that such details as time, place and participants be settled through U.N. channels.

Members of the 11-nation Council are keeping in close touch with the East-West exchanges and are ready to meet quickly if Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev agrees to this procedure.

Holt's Baby Lift Pushes Toward Thousand Mark

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Harry Holt's baby lift pushed toward the thousand mark today as the grizzled Oregon farmer left Seoul with 81 orphans for adoption in the United States.

Aboard the chartered Korean National Airlines plane were 27 boys and 54 girls, shepherded by Holt, his daughter Molly and several nurses. Most of the children were less than 3 years old.

Holt and his wife raised six children of their own on their ranch at Creswell, Ore., before he began finding American couples to adopt Korean War orphans in 1955. Eight of the orphans on his first plane load were adopted by Holt himself.

Today's group brings the total he has brought to America to 983. "I like kids and so many people write me looking for them," Holt once explained. "The parents need children and these children need parents. All I do

Anniversary of The Sinking of Italian Liner

By FRANCIS STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—After two years, two major questions still hover above the sunken bulk of the Italian luxury liner Andrea Doria.

One of them is: Who is to blame for the fearful collision with the Swedish motorship Stockholm off the coast of Massachusetts two years ago tonight? Months of court hearings failed to settle the issue. It probably never will be.

The second question may or may not be answered in the years to come: Can the Andrea Doria be salvaged or resurrected from the depths of the Atlantic?

Meanwhile, one major task made necessary by the crash is all but ended. For more than a year attorneys for insurance companies have been busy settling death, injury and cargo claims.

Claimants will receive a total of about six million dollars. They originally asked about 116 million. Only a few claims remain to be settled.

Foreign underwriters also have paid the Italian Line some 14 million for the loss of the Andrea Doria, and the Swedish-American line received a million for repairs to the smashed bow of the Stockholm.

It was at 11:09 p. m. on July 25, 1955, that the two great liners came together in a busy ship lane some 45 miles south of Nantucket Island, Mass. The extra-strong ice-outher prow of the Stockholm thundered into the fore part of the Andrea Doria and pierced far inside the ship.

In the next hours an amazing sea rescue took place as the Andrea Doria slowly sank. Ships converged at high speed from all directions and by morning all but 45 of the Doria's 1,705 passengers and crew had been removed.

The death toll finally was established at 50--45 on the Doria and 5 on the Stockholm.

Since then, two others died from injuries attributed to the mishap, boosting the death total to 52.

Hundreds of lawsuits were filed in the wake of the collision. In due course they were consolidated into a single case, but after months of hearings efforts to fix the responsibility were dropped. Insurance agents for the two lines set up a fund for settling claims.

Before the hearings were concluded, the substance of the testimony was that each ship blamed the other for making a wrong turn at the last moment as they met.

Report of Sylvania Electric Reflects a Definite Upturn

NEW YORK—Sylvania Electric Products Inc. reported today that its second quarter operations reflected "a definite upturn in the company's business", with earnings 21 per cent above those of the first quarter and sales about 5 per cent higher than those of the previous period.

Don G. Mitchell, Chairman and President, said in his report to share owners that the turning point in sales and earnings occurred in April, and that the second quarter improvement was "especially significant in view of the fact that second quarter sales have traditionally been lower than first quarter volume because of seasonal factors".

Concerning the balance of the year, Mr. Mitchell said "there is every indication that Sylvania's markets have begun their upward trend, and we believe that sales and earnings for the third and fourth quarters will be at more normal levels".

Second quarter sales showed a slight increase over the 1957 comparable period. Earnings were below a year ago because the improvement in net income was not felt until the latter part of the quarter, with June being the highest month so far this year.

Net sales in the second quarter amounted to $75,443,673, against $72,132,543 in the first quarter and $4,970,858 in the second quarter of 1957.

Second quarter net income totaled $1,415,652 as compared with $1,167,818 in the first quarter. After provision for the preferred dividend, earnings for the quarter were equal to 37 cents per common share, compared with 30 cents per share in the first quarter. Second quarter earnings in 1957 were $1,718,725, or 46 cents per share.

Net sales for the first half of 1958 were $147,576,216, against $162,520,532 in the comparable 1957 period. Net income was $2,582,870 compared with $4,788,669 in the 1957 first half. After provision for the preferred dividend, first half net income was equal to 67 cents per common share, against $1.30 a year earlier.

Discussing the performance of the company's various product lines, Mr. Mitchell said the impact of the business adjustment affected Sylvania's receiving tube and television picture tube sales to a greater extent than its other markets. He noted, however, that sales of receiving tubes in the replacement market began to increase in April. In this area, May was the second largest month in the company's history, and June was ahead of a year ago. Sales of both receiving and picture tubes to the original equipment market exceeded the first quarter, and incoming orders strengthened as the new 1959 set lines went into production.

In the lighting field, according to the Sylvania chief executive, the company's business in incandescent lamps, fluorescent lamps, and special lighting products held up well during the business adjustment. Total sales for the second quarter were higher than those of the first quarter and the 1957 second period. Photoflash lamp sales for the quarter exceeded the total of a year ago.

Forest Auto Tour Plans a Visit to Erie Co. July 30

Forest County people will visit Erie County on an auto tour Wednesday, July 30, as planned by a committee in co-operation with the host county agents and Kathleen Zumbro, Clyde Johnson and Russell Smith, extension workers of Forest County.

Those desiring to travel in a group going to the first stop near Corry will gather at the Wheeler Farm, East Hickory, between 8 and 8:30 a. m. Others may go directly to the Howard Hammond dairy farm on Route 89 south of Route 6 west of Corry. The tourists are to arrive at Hammonds by 10 o'clock.

The next stop will be at Ivan Miller's potato farm to see a large acreage of potatoes, modern machinery and buildings.

A buffet style picnic will take place in the picnic area in Watsburg at noon.

Then the tourists will go to North East to see sour cherries being processed at the Welch Plant.

Next will be a visit to the fruit farm of Kenneth Young near North East.

The committee invites town people, farmers, non-farmers, homemakers, 4-H club members and other youth to go on this tour to learn more about Erie County. Members of the committee are Mrs. Russell Mong, chairman; Mrs. Harold Seigworth, William Motzer, Mervin Yeane and Chester Zuenkel.

Fish Commission Starts Work on Blue Eye Run

The stream improvement corps of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission has moved into Warren County's Blue-Eye Run and started its second project of eight scheduled for the current year. Completed earlier was a similar project on a portion of the Dunbar Creek in Fayette County.

According to William Voigt, Jr., executive director of the Commission, favorable weather will see the Blue-Eye Run work completed within two weeks. Other streams on the corps' work agenda between now and mid-October are: Trout Run in Clearfield County; Little Bear Creek in Lycoming County; East Branch Dyberry Creek in Wayne County; Little Lehigh River in Lehigh County; East Licking Creek in Mifflin and Juniata Counties and Dickey Run in Franklin County. Present work plans call for improvements to be completed on selected portions of these streams. The improvements will include bank stabilization, channeling, deflectors and small dams of various types, where they are necessary.

Voigt said that stream improvement is a part of the new fisheries program made possible by the recent fishing license fee increase. What is being done this year is only a "scratch on the surface" of the state's trout streams in need of attention. The list already compiled by the Commission is a lengthy one and work on each stream on that list will be undertaken in turn according to the need for improvement as additional monies become available and as weather and stream conditions permit.

Aside from the need for improvement the permanent availability of the stream to the fishing public and its capacity to carry trout the year around are primary factors in the selection of the streams to be improved, according to Voigt.

Decline Is Noted In Employment Report for Area

A moderate change in employment during the past 60 days was reflected by reports from 49 area concerns according to a report by Andrew Donick, Manager of the local office of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service. The net decrease was 1.7% or 133. This decline was concentrated in the manufacturing group; however, minor losses were sustained by contractors and the retail and wholesale trade groups. A part of the drop was offset by hires in the miscellaneous category. Significantly, there are more men and fewer women on the payrolls of the firms surveyed than in April 1958.

The current level is substantially less than a year ago and under the June 1956 mark. The year-to-year variations are due primarily to the adverse trend in shop jobs which now lags behind both 1956 and 1957 by approximately 500.

Donick indicated that there were 698 persons receiving unemployment benefits during the last week in June. Corresponding figures for a month and two months ago were 667 and 692.

Forecasts supplied by local business men are not uniform; some few expect an upswing in the next 60 days, others are pessimistic—the majority look for little or no change.

RADIO and TV

By RALPH DIGHTON

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP)—One of these nights you'll be watching TV for a glimpse of something you never thought you'd see—the other side of the moon.

One of the "lunar probe" rockets now being built will go out to the moon, circle it and come back, scanning its surface with a television camera all the while.

The signals from this lunar scanner will be picked up by a giant antenna on earth and put on tape. A few days later, after study by the appropriate authorities, the tape will be released for public viewing.

This is the prediction of Dr. Donald B. Duncan, head of advanced engineering at the Autonetics Division of North American Aviation.

Duncan, an expert on space navigation, won't say just when this magic night on television will come—"but it may be sooner than you think."

"The first swing around the moon," says Duncan, "may be 100 miles or so above its surface. But even at that distance man will be able to find answers to many of the questions he has asked for centuries: Is there any form of life at all on the moon? Is the far side of the moon, which is always turned away from earth, any different from the side we see almost every night? Would the moon be a feasible space station on our way to the stars?"

Later trips, says Duncan, will take the TV camera much closer to the moon's surface. Man eventually will set foot on the moon and the TV tape of that junket, he believes, will record the beginning of a new era for man.

Just how will science do this—make it possible for armchair astronauts to circle the moon, even to "visit" other planets?

"There are at least two ways," Duncan says, "both possible with the instrumentation we already have."

"First, we could record what the TV camera sees on tape and then recover the tape when the space vehicle returns to earth."

"The second, and probably most practical way, would be to transmit live TV impulses in code to a large antenna on earth, then unscramble the code and record the resultant picture on tape."

Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—As if everybody didn't feel small enough already, we will be asked this autumn to look up to a hero only six inches tall.

He is Mel Hunter, star of "World of Giants," a new television series, and a lot of big money is riding on his tiny but muscular frame in one of the top duels of the 1958-59 video season.

CBS is gambling four million dollars that Little Mel will be able to untrack "Wagon Train," the highly rated program that sets out every Wednesday night from the rival trading post run by Sheriff Bob Sarnoff of NBC.

It is to be a no-holds-barred contest for audience favor between the fantastic and the horse opera. Who is this rash unknown, Mel Hunter, who has risen to challenge the long reign of the Western?

He is the brainchild of John Ziv and Richard Dorso.

Mel is a strapping 6-foot secret agent who is exposed to rays from a deadly enemy missile fuel behind the Iron Curtain. His molecular system is affected, and he shrinks until he is only half a foot tall.

Instead of asking waivers on him or peddling him to a circus, Mel's superiors in a government department known only as "the Bureau" decide to keep him on the job as a spy hunter.

The fact they now have a 6-inch agent is, of course, the bureau's top secret. He goes on his missions in a briefcase carried by his buddy, Bill Winters. The briefcase has air vents and contains an airplane type seat in which miniature Mel straps himself for comfort.

Because of his small size, everything that happens to Mel is a matter of life or death to him," said Dorso.

"Two of his biggest problems in the pilot show are how to outwit a hungry cat and how to get a telephone off the hook so he can call the Bureau."

"The Federal Bureau of Investigation screened the series and approved it," Dorso said, "as long as Mel wasn't identified as an FBI agent."

Dorso believes "the little man" will become the hero of the year to both kids and grownups.

"There is no ceiling to this," he said. "We think it will go right through the roof. We're going for the long haul."

"This is going to be the year of the fantastic in television. Oh, there'll be a rash of fantasies—a real rash of them. All kinds of new backgrounds and different heroes—maybe even a two-headed hero from another planet."

Glade Volunteers Agree To Large Mortgage Burning

Glade Township Volunteer Fire Department members agreed to a mortgage burning ceremony at their meeting Thursday night in the new fire hall.

More than $50,000 worth of truck, equipment and meeting place had been amortized by the volunteers during a scant five years since the obligation was undertaken, it was reported. Fine cooperation among the members and a hard working auxiliary were credited for the swift payment of debts.

To celebrate, the volunteers plan a joint outing with Auxiliary members sometime before August 28 and a Special Stag on that date. Actual burning of the mortgage will follow both events and definite plans are to be announced.

Included in the summation of the mortgage are: $20,000 for the Glade International 750-gallon tanker, an additional $30,000-odd for the much-used Glade Fire Hall, sirens, and other equipment.

Mortgage was satisfied within five years, attesting to the devotion of Glade Volunteers who make up one of the finest fire fighting units on a no-pay basis in Pennsylvania.

It was stressed at the meeting that more members of GTVFD would be welcomed and township property holders wishing to advance aid to the unit may contact David Thompson, president; Donald Curtis, secretary; Dennis DiPierro, treasurer; Paul Lauffenburger, Sr., membership committee chairman.

On agenda for next Glade Volunteer project are new protective uniforms for the several members who turn out for each fire without complete protection.

New members accepted at the meeting included: David Marti, Richard Carlson, Leon Hetttenbaugh, Walter Hohman, John Guthrie.

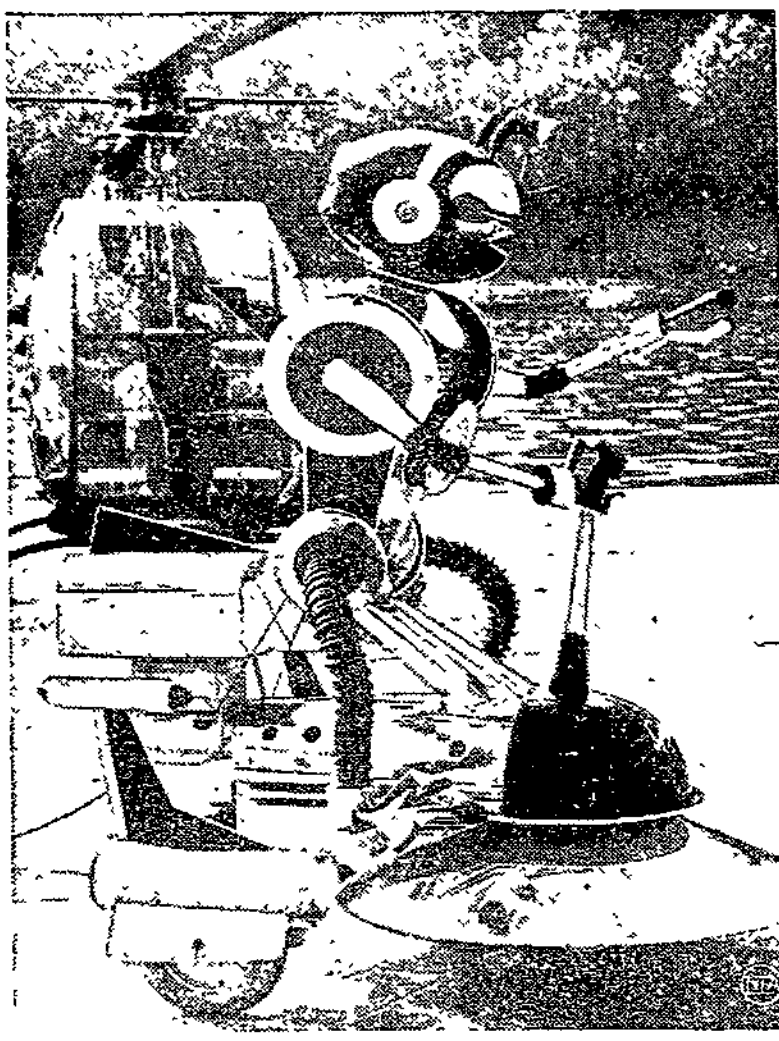

It was announced the unit antique Model T engine would appear in Garland parade August 9th and the Lander parade August 14.

Member chiefs of WCAVFA have been notified to inform Russell Fire Chief Charles Knapp of the number of volunteers who intend to attend WCAVFA meeting in Russell August 14th.

MIDDLETOWN, R.I. (AP)—Police, fire fighters and Coast-guardmen searched the water off Atlantic beach Thursday night by the light of 10 automobile headlights for Wallace A. Martland, 19, Newport. He had been reported at the beach and presumably had drowned. Later, searchers discovered Martland was home in bed.

HICKORY, N.C. (AP)—Elmer Glenn Johnson of Valdese parked his car, got out and hailed a cab. Shortly afterward he was booked by police on a drunk charge. He had parked his car on railroad tracks at a crossing. A freight train was halted in time for police to haul the car off the tracks.

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—Come September pupils at Bedford High School may have difficulty deciding whether they're in the right sociology class. Twin brothers, John and James Forsha of Johnstown, Pa., have been engaged to teach the subject next semester.

He said he hadn't had time because he was "so busy making out returns for customers." He was fined $100.

Democrats Plan Campaign Meet In Clarion County

Secretary of the Commonwealth John S. Rice will speak next Wednesday to Democratic workers in Jefferson, Clarion, Elk, Forrest, McKean and Warren Counties in his drive to add 500,000 voters to the registration rolls of both parties.

The meeting is to be held at noon in Sportsman's Paradise, Route 68, Crown-Clarion. John H. Cartwright of Ridgway, is regional chairman of registration for the six counties.

Although Rice also is registration chairman for the Democratic Party in Pennsylvania, he said he is "mainly interested in getting everybody who has not registered to do so, no matter which party he joins."

"But," he added, "I would certainly like for them to sign up as Democrats."

He said that 2,200,000 persons of voting age in the state is not registered—"about one out of every three."

"Government is everybody's business," he said. "It's the job of all public-minded citizens to help convince all unregistered persons that they should register and vote."

Master Stylists in London Reveal New Autumn Clothes

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—There was nothing subtle today about where London's master stylists have placed the new autumn season's emphasis in women's clothes. It's on the bosom and the waist.

If either was hiked any higher it'd be on milady's shoulders. gBoth are so far up that John Cavanagh even calls his sparkling collection "sky high."

There's a big difference, though, in the way bosoms and waists are treated. The waists are covered while the busts are—shall we say—not so covered. Especially for evening.

With skirts above the knees, the legs look as if they start immediately under the bosom.

The new décolletage is so daring it's going to be hard to attract much attention to the waist. But, the bosses of haute couture have tried.

In addition to the high waists, there are diagonal waists, sloping round from a high center in the front to a low back. Or down from a spot just below the shoulder blades to the front.

Queen Elizabeth II's dressmaker, Norman Hartnell, has joined the high, high parade.

It remains to be seen, however, whether her pretty majesty, with one of the best figures in and out of royal circles, will raise her sights for the season.

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—How high is high? How far above the waist, how near the bosom?

That is being determined at the Florence fashion shows now that Italian couture has declared itself in favor of the high demarcation line between bodice and skirt.

Veneziani, whose collections received ovations Wednesday night, hinged her skirts about the level of the second rib.

Skirts are either short or long, with no middle ground between knee and floor.

Girl in English Finishing School May Be Sha's Queen

LONDON (AP)—Raven-haired Lilly Myhra Fallah reportedly has been summoned back to Tehran from an exclusive English finishing school, leaving behind a buzz of speculation that she will be the Shah of Iran's next queen.

Friends of the beautiful 18-year-old Iranian girl say she will fly to Paris next week to choose a trousseau for her wedding to the handsome 38-year-old monarch.

The friends say the wedding may be sometime in October. But in Tehran, Iran's royal court minister today denied the report.

"The Shah has made no decision," the minister said.

For weeks, Lilly's secret has been kept at the Paddock Wood

Finishing School, which lies among rolling heathland. There are 48 girls—mostly foreign—at the school.

"Two weeks ago a chauffeur-driven car arrived here from the Iranian Embassy and Lilly left to catch a plane to Tehran," the school's matron said Wednesday night.

Lilly is tall, olive-skinned and the daughter of Reza Fallah, wealthy boss of Iran's nationalized oil industry. He reportedly was called to the Shah four months ago and told Lilly was among those being considered to become the Shah's wife, succeeding ex-Queen Soraya. The Shah cause she had not borne him an heir to the throne.

VACATIONING EASIER THAN EVER

If you're still in doubt about vacation plans—the August Reader's Digest may help you make up your mind.

"The Nation's Best Vacation Buy", says an article by Evan Hill, is near at hand and big as all outdoors. Ten times as many families will go camping in national parks and forests this summer as did a dozen years ago. Department stores report camping equipment sales are skyrocketing. And thousands of miles of new superhighway lead to beautiful campsites, where families can pitch their tents for a dollar a night or less.

On the other hand, if you incline toward luxury loafing, or a trip, the hotels and travel agencies are reaching out for you with inducements never dreamed of before. Just a few, says Tom Mahoney, in his article "Travel Without Tears," are: free accommodations for children under 14 and pets; baby-tending service; bargain travel rates, and an assortment of "vacation now, pay later" plans. Some hotels even guarantee cooperation by the weather: room rent is free any day the sun doesn't shine.

Before summer is over, an estimated five million Americans will have suffered the slings and arrows of poison ivy; and there's something for them in the August Digest, too. Albert G. Maisel, reporting on "That Scourge of Summer: Poison Ivy," says the most important thing to remember is this: nobody is immune. At least once in our lives, each of us can walk through a bed of poison ivy and seemingly suffer no injury. But in that first exposure, or a subsequent one, the ivy's poisonous sap will combine with the proteins in our skin and sensitize us. Then, at next exposure, even years later, our skin will "remember" its original contact and explode in a rash. What to do? For cases not serious enough to merit seeing a doctor, apply dilute solutions of boric acid, aluminum acetate or potassium permanganate, or calomine lotion.

And cut your fingernails as short as possible.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW
 Associated Press News Analyst
 WASHINGTON (AP)—This has been an almost weird seven months in high diplomacy. During most of that time—until now—it would have been hard to find anyone willing to bet a dime on a summit conference in 1958.

Now it seems assured. But at a price. The Soviets have scored a smashing propaganda victory by forcing the conference. The United States practically had to be dragged into it.

It remains to be seen—after the results are known—whether the conference turns out to be a farce and this country was right in its reluctance to meet with Premier Khrushchev.

There is no exact parallel in history for these past seven months. They produced a shower of letters between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev, hair-splitting, and the kind of progress that never, until now, amounted to anything except one step forward and one step back. In short, nothing.

The Soviets started it last December with a letter to Eisenhower, proposing a meeting at the top. The administration thought it could brush it off by letting a press officer dismiss it as propaganda before the State Department released a translation of the Soviet note.

This cavalier treatment didn't work. Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles were quickly shaken out of that attitude by the reaction of American allies who wanted much more serious attention given the Soviet proposal.

Nevertheless, Eisenhower and Dulles dabbled about answering it, giving the Soviets almost a solid month in which to parade before the world as unanswered peace-overs.

And before Eisenhower finally got off his reply to the first Soviet note, the Soviets sent another. Even Dulles by then indicated the Soviets were beating us in propaganda. The administration decided to be a little quicker in the future.

Then began the rain of letters, with the Soviets urging haste and Eisenhower taking the position there should not be a summit meeting until there had been adequate preparation for it and all sides agreed thoroughly on what they'd discuss.

Without such preparation, of course, a summit meeting could turn into a shooting gallery. But the whole idea seemed to collapse last month when the Soviets suddenly broke off negotiations with Western ambassadors in Moscow on preparations for a summit get-together.

They did this at a time when—for a reason still incomprehensible—they abruptly turned tough in all directions. For a time, they appeared not to care what the rest of the world thought. Whatever propaganda gains they had made were suddenly being thrown away.

But Khrushchev saw a new and golden chance to score on the West—and took advantage of it fast—when American troops were sent into Lebanon and British troops into Jordan at the request of the heads of government of both countries.

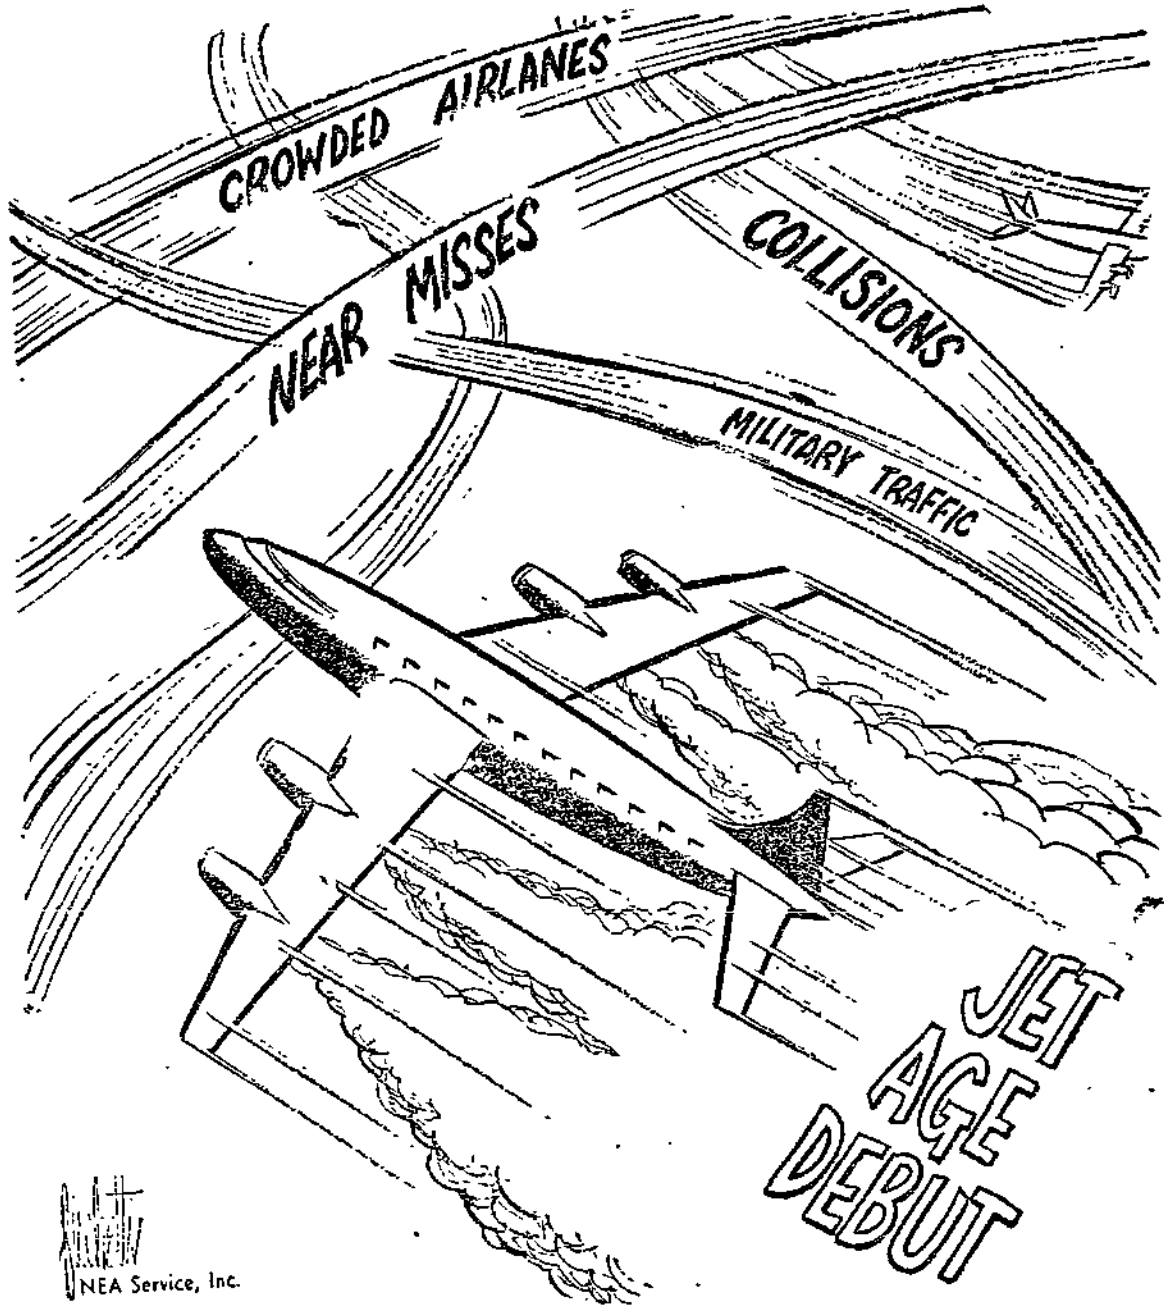

Khrushchev moved fast, but not in haste. The American troops went in July 15. Khrushchev waited until July 19 before issuing another call for a summit meeting, this time to avoid war in the Mideast.

Those few days' delay gave him time to see what world reaction was to the American move. It was far from universally good. Thus he was able to know for sure he was hitting a widely popular chord when he wrote his summit letter.

The Eisenhower administration still didn't want any part of sitting down with Khrushchev. But the British did. This left it up to Eisenhower to split with Britain or trail along behind her. He reluctantly agreed to a meeting.

But this meeting—perhaps within three weeks—will almost certainly be the kind Eisenhower never wanted: one without thorough preparation or agreement on what will be discussed.

Into the Really Wild Blue Yonder

NEA Service, Inc.

Here and There

High on Tonkawa Hill, two miles south of Anadarko, Oklahoma, some 89,000 visitors last year learned about the history, tradition, religion, and way of life of American Indian. They came to Indian City, U.S.A., one of the most unusual museums in the world. Indian City was born none too soon. Primitive Indians have almost disappeared in the last 50 years. With him have gone his culture, art, tradition and customs, and even his languages. Each year in August the one-week American Indian Exposition was held at Anadarko, during which families gathered in an effort to preserve their history similar to what the local Seneca Indians do each weekend at Oj-hes-tah.

For that one week, visitors to the state had an opportunity to see Indians arrayed in ancient dress. Businessmen organized a corporation to build the Indian City. But they had to call for Scientific help to build it. Indians themselves didn't know how their forebears had lived. So, the five ancient, authentic Indian villages now on the site, with at least one dwelling in each village furnished with Indian equipment, insofar as possible, have all been built under expert guidance of anthropologists from University of Oklahoma. There is a lodge, along with a store for craft work and curios, and Kiwanis Club has provided a small building to house some of the priceless historical mementos. There are skilled guides—all Indians—who stay in villages in the daytime, but go home at night where the beds are much more comfortable. There are stomp dances performed daily, from May 15 through October 10, and on every Sunday throughout the year.

Let's go to the woods. For a boy, there's fascination in the woods. Whether it's a stand of pine trees lying beyond the plowed acreage of his father's farm, or a park just outside the city limits, the woods is a place of mystery, adventure and escape from an adult-bossed world. It's a place where a woodchuck can be a lion and a squirrel a bear. It's a place where a game of cowboys and Indians comes so close to being true you can almost touch reality. And it can be a place where a dreamer can be alone to think of things like growing up, or stand unashamed and listen to a bird song. But the woods can also be a place where a boy and a man can bridge the years between them and tramp and laugh and talk together. Or it can be a place for showing off to his favorite girl how much a boy knows of where a rabbit is apt to be or how to cross a rocky stream... or to lead his mother to a nest of robins, and to pick for her a dazzling bunch of pretty flowers. To the boy grown-up this fascination of the woods seems to come alive in the adventure, fun, and solitude of following a trail with his family. Here he can recapture some of the joy of his youth. Here, he hopes, his family can find in the wilderness some of the pleasures he remembers. Americans have a traditional fondness—call it corny if you will—for the outdoors. The nation's history, young as history and nations go, is rich with the drama of breaking ground and blazing trails. Its memories of colonists and pioneers are fresh and vivid.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

If you are going to do a favor for another person, make light of it instead of making a big thing of your helpfulness. You don't have to build it up to make the other person appreciate what you are doing for him.

If you build a favor up too much he will probably wish you hadn't done it, since he will feel so indebted to you.

Middle East Exploding Out of the Middle Ages

BY PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Though no one can predict the outcome of any of the Middle East developments which now threaten the peace of the world, the background of this situation is an open book.

Iraq was supposed to be the showpiece of the Middle East. Seventy per cent of its 200-million-dollar annual income from oil was being allocated to internal development.

This was supplemented by 11 million dollars worth of U.S. grants in aid, about 1.5 million in loans and 46 million dollars worth of military assistance to strengthen the Baghdad Pact.

UNDERNEATH THIS VENEER of progress was a rotten core. Young King Feisal was under the thumb of his uncle and former regent, the murdered Crown Prince Abdul Illah and the ruthless, strong-man Premier Nuri Es Said.

Ninety per cent of Iraq's five million people are still illiterate. Many of the slowly emerging middle-class intellectuals were known to be in jail.

This is symbolic of what is considered wrong in the entire Arab world. It had its greatest culture from the seventh to the 13th centuries. Then the Mongol hordes swept in from the east. And the Middle East went into its dark age that was to last another six centuries.

Its Bedouin tribesmen are still living as they did in the day of Abraham. Its few farmers are about where they were in the time of Charlemagne. Its shopkeepers are organized in guilds like those that prevailed in Europe during the time of Columbus.

POLITICALLY, THE ARABS are trying to jump the last few hundred years in one generation. They are now trying to have their "American revolutions" to gain their independence and drive out the kings and the red coats. Egypt's President Nasser has been showing them the way.

The economic revolution in the Middle East is yet to come. In Saudi Arabia the average per capita income is $150. And the king, with 35 senior princes and 350 of college age—none having a high school education—spends a million dollars a year for Cadillacs.

In Egypt the economic revolution is stymied by President Nasser's bartering of his country's cotton for Communist bloc arms. He has turned to the trick of all dictators. He has diverted attention from his internal economic troubles by foreign adventures in conquest.

If Iraq should fall into his trap he will have oil—which he has lacked before. And oil will mean both money and a further tightening of the economic squeeze he now holds on Europe through acquisition of the Suez Canal.

It is an economic war for big stakes that is now shaping up in the Middle East.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
 NEW YORK (AP)—The chances are good today that come New Year's there'll be another legal shrinkage of your take-home pay. Congress is talking of increasing social security taxes then. The social security fund is running in the red, although it has sizable reserves to fall back on—carried as U. S. Treasury securities, not as cash.

The present maximum deduction from a paycheck is $94.50 a year. The proposed maximum after New Year's would be $120. But there would be some increase for every employee at whatever wage scale.

And for business there would be an increase in operating expenses since the amount the employer pays into the kitty would rise at the same time and in the same amount.

The proposal is based on two factors:

1. Currently the amount workers are paying into the social security fund is running behind the sums being paid out to the increasing number of the retired, making for embarrassing red ink bookkeeping.

2. Congress is talking of increasing the amount of old age and disability payments, as it has in each election year since 1952. It is reacting to the impact of inflation on those with fixed incomes.

For many years the social security fund was increasing. But as new types of beneficiaries were added and the life expectancy of all increased, the outgoing payments finally outstripped the income tax receipts.

At the present tax rate schedule—set to increase gradually until 1975 when it would hit a permanent rate of 4½ per cent—the fund would be in the red until 1965.

The next step up from the present to 2½ to 2½ per cent was set for 1960.

The fund's holdings of Treasury bonds had reached about 22 billion dollars when payments overtook receipts.

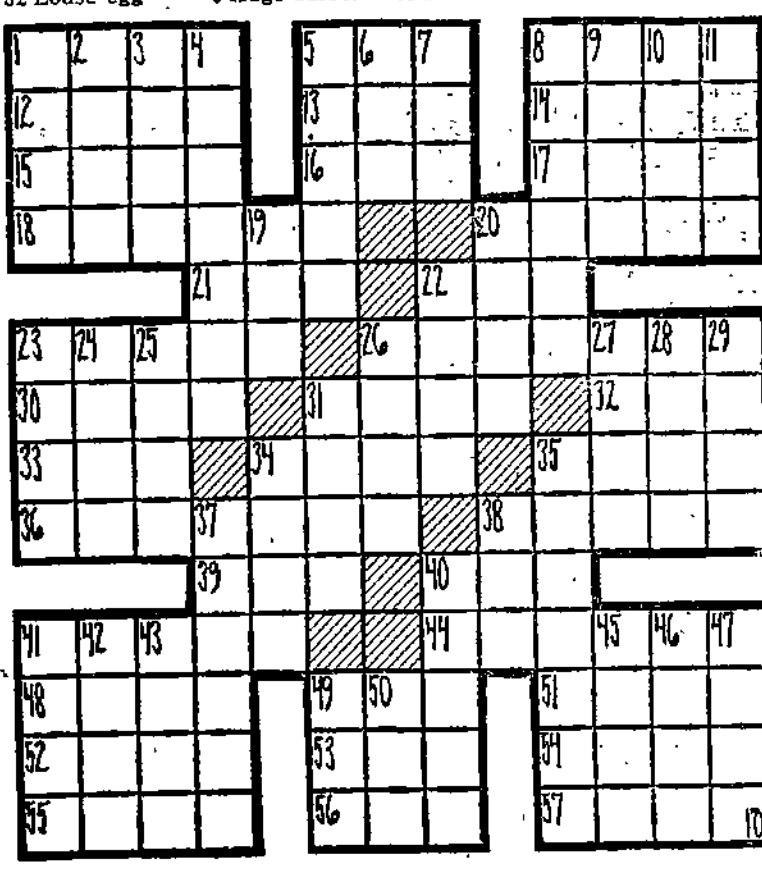

Those fearing that the increasing number of persons getting old age benefits—now more than 11 million—will drain the reserves have always been reassured that Congress will increase the tax as needed to prevent this.

Widening the base of the insured by taking in new elements of the population has put the current acute squeeze on the fund. But the long term rise in life expectancy has done even more.

In 1950 there were about 12 million persons in the United States, 65 or over. The number has gone up steadily and the 1960 census is expected to count almost 16 million in that group.

The Mature Parent

'Ingratitude' of Children Wounds Mom's Shaky Pride

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

One or another of Mrs. G's children is always bursting out at her: "For gosh sake, can't you quit nagging a minute?" Sometimes, out of her hurt and bewilderment, she tries to answer the question. She'll say, "If I've asked you to take those old movie magazines down to the cellar once, I've asked you 10 times. But I never get anything done in return for what I do for you."

"Who's the one you came to when you wanted Dad to advance you the money for that blouse you've got on your back? Who fixed your skirt last night? Who does everything to make you a good home you're not ashamed to bring your friends to?"

"There's never anything too much for me to do for you, even when my arthritis is killing me..."

It never does any good.

So perhaps Mrs. G. might be willing to listen twice to those words she speaks to the child who has hurt her. What is she really saying?

She is saying: "Please, please recognize what a good woman I am. I give constantly to other people. And when I don't feel like giving to them, I give anyway because of my superior sense of duty. Now that I've stigmatized my virtues, couldn't you credit me with the goodness I perpetually do?"

Yes, that is what she is saying.

Mrs. G's words are an appeal for relief from her terror of wrongdoing.

If Mrs. G. wants to lose her terror of wrongdoing, she'll have to give up her pride in right-doing.

It's a cruel form of pride for a parent to indulge. When we get rid of it, the child who criticizes us no longer wounds us. We accept the possibility that we have done something wrong and are content to have done it. And so we can say cheerfully to the accusing child, "O.K.—just take those magazines down to the cellar—and I'll quit nagging."

When the possibility that we've done wrong loses its power to terrify us, children accept our shortcomings as comfortably as we do.

But until we lose our pride in right-doing, their accusations will continue to betray us into scared, long-winded, futile appeals to change their point of view and see us as perfect, irreproachable people—which we aren't.

Opening lead—♥K. If a heart is opened against four spades South can make all 13 tricks. He simply trumps in dummy, overtakes dummy's queen of spades and draws trumps. Then, since West holds king and one club, a club finesse gives him seven club tricks.

"If a trump is opened, South can draw trumps and make 12 tricks.

"If a diamond is opened and a club returned, or if a club is opened, the best South can do is get out for down one.

The record of the hand shows that top score went to a player who bid and made exactly four spades! I imagine that he got a heart opening and drew trumps, but compromised by discarding some of dummy's clubs before trying the club finesse.

It is possible that someone did open a club but my guess is that all other spade declarers simply played safe to go down a couple of tricks rather than risk going down a lot should the clubs not be exactly the way they were.

I do not approve of this technique. South should realize that several of the Norths would have made the contact so that any minus would have to be a bad score. Therefore they should have gone all out to make their contract and not worried about how many they might go down.

Mr. Fred Luck of RD #2, Warren, Pa., says, "I'm kept pretty busy all day. So, when I come home I don't want to spend a lot of time worrying about things that have gone wrong. I like efficiency—and that's why I'm sold on our electric water heater."

"It's completely automatic. Nothing to bother about—no pilot light to think about. And lots of hot water—anytime—for any reason. I think our automatic electric water heater is one of the best investments we've ever made. Wouldn't be without it!"

"The Babe Lives on---!"

Printed as a public service for Warren County Unit of the American Cancer Society

The fight against cancer in the name of Babe Didrikson Zaharias has now become a memorial project of the American Cancer Society. It was announced today by Mefford R. Runyon, the Society's executive vice president. George Zaharias, husband of the great woman athlete, consented to the transfer of the memorial from the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Cancer Memorial Fund of Galveston, Texas, to the "Babe Didrikson Zaharias Memorial Fund of the American Cancer Society" as it is now called.

As of Mar 1, the assets and administration of the Texas organization were turned over officially to the American Cancer Society.

"The Texas leaders of the 'Babe' fund feel that we are equipped to do a more thorough job. Their concern, which we share, is to see an acceleration in the fight against cancer through the enlistment of the sports world with its many opportunities for service."

"During the last month when Mrs. Zaharias was waging her own personal fight against cancer she must have known that this was one contest she would not win... for herself. With the courage that made her the first lady of sports she was determined to help others win the fight against America's number two disease killer. She set up the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Cancer Fund which a year later became her memorial."

In the nearly three years since Babe and George Zaharias established the cancer fund contributions have amounted to almost $100,000. Most of this money has been used for cancer control projects at the University of Texas and the University of Florida.

Aside from personal bequests Babe's fellow athletes have taken up her torch and organized sports events with proceeds earmarked for the Memorial Fund. Over 100 memorial golf tournaments and other contests ranging from basketball and baseball to wrestling and rodeos have been held across the nation.

"The ball is rolling," said Mr. Runyon, "and it is up to us to give it new momentum. We are happy to take over responsibility for the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Memorial Fund, and we hope contributions will come in steadily and generously. There is a great deal that we can do with it to fulfill Babe's great objectives: cancer control among the needy; the detection of the disease in time for treatment and cure."

Cancer struck the Babe in 1956, and all her friends hoped she'd win this, too. She made a comeback and went on taking trophies... but cancer struck again in 1955. Babe Didrikson Zaharias died September 27, 1956... but the Babe lives on in the hearts of those who knew the never-say-die spirit that made her the First Lady of Sports. She was only 16 when she led her Texas women's basketball team to championship... 18, when she set Olympic records in hurdles and javelin... 21, when she won her first golf tournament. She was only 42 when she died. Many lives are lost, many are saved from cancer, but we don't know enough about this disease. We didn't know enough to save Babe. More knowledge is needed... and that means more research... and that means more money. In order to help raise additional funds for the ACS in the name of Babe Zaharias, the Warren County Unit is hoping to stage a Beat the Club Champion Golf Tournament later this summer, with all proceeds being contributed to the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Memorial Fund of the American Cancer Society.

Mango Tropicale, Tempting Dish

Mango Tropicale, mango stuffed with curried crabmeat garnished with fresh shrimp, is a favorite refrigerated dish of lovely Juha Meade, hostess on the gas industry's "Playhouse 90" TV series. Here Juha reaches into the freezer compartment of the new RCA Whirlpool gas refrigerator for a crescent-shaped ice circle to garnish the dish just before serving. (See accompanying recipe for Mango Tropicale).

Mango Tropicale (Serves 4)
—2 Mangoes, 1 lb. crabmeat lumps; 1½ cups of boiled rice; 4 oz. cooked spinach; 12 filets of anchovies, chopped fine; 16 cooked and de-veined shrimp; 2 cups mayonnaise; 2 teaspoons curry powder; 1 teaspoon dry English mustard; 4 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce; 1 lemon quartered; 1 large tomato sliced; salt and pepper.

Procedure: Take a mixing bowl—add curry powder, English mustard and mix well. Add mayonnaise and mix well. Add mayonnaise slowly. After sauce is well mixed, add crabmeat, salt and pepper, and fill peeled mangoes. Mix the cold rice with chopped spinach, anchovies, salt and pepper, and mould or shape into large oval.

Arrange the mangoes in the center of a platter. Place the rice mould at one end and sliced tomatoes and quartered lemon at the other end. Split shrimp in half and garnish them around the mangoes. Serve mayonnaise seasoned with curry, mustard and Worcestershire sauce on the side.

Keep refrigerated in RCA Whirlpool gas refrigerator until ready to serve, then garnish entire platter with crescent-shaped ice cubes for decorative effect.

Are You Eligible to Join The Royal Order of Sneeze?

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Royal Order of the Sneeze reports that once again it's all set to be off and running from the hay fever season.

For this group of hay fever sufferers is convinced that, once the pollen starts to fly, there's but one sure form of relief: Get out.

The ROS was founded almost by accident. A few victims, lolling around Miami Beach, Fla., while waiting for the pollen count to go down back home, decided to form a club.

Now it has more than 10 members from all over the county. The big sneeze is David Chesca of Columbus, Ohio, and the secretary is Barney Keren, a Washington lawyer.

They issue membership cards, collect dues—$10 a year and try to get hotels and resorts to give special rates to card-carrying members.

Rarely has any club had a greater potential. Seven or eight million Americans have hay fever.

Allergies can be caused by almost anything, but Keren is a common, ordinary, ragweed man.

"Had it for 30 years," Keren said. "I've tried everything. My home is air conditioned and so is my office, but along about Aug. 15 here it comes. I try to stick it out for a couple of weeks, and then leave for Florida until its all over."

Keren thinks he has a surefire prescription for hay fever: Make enough money so you can afford to go, and stay, where ragweed isn't.

Although Miami Beach has been favored by Club members, any spot where the wind blows steadily in from the ocean is fine. The club also is dicker with mountain resorts, and with a steamship company that has a plan to take them all out to sea.

Unfortunately, most hay fever victims can't afford such treatment.

"All they can do is take it," Keren said. "Only those who

Russians Gloat Over Acceptance By Their Chief

By ROY ESSOYAN

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russian cab driver said "he did it," he gave it to them.

He was reflecting the self-confident Soviet reaction to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's decision to accept the West's challenge and go to New York.

When Khrushchev faces the West across the table at the U.N. Security Council "he will show them," the cab driver continued.

The Communist party paper Pravda elaborated on this view of the man in the street. It pulled out the stops Khrushchev kept carefully muted in his letters to the West last night.

Pravda accused the United States of meddling, wire-pulling and open aggression in the Middle East. It accused President Eisenhower of "turning white into black and black into white."

Spitting Incident Makes Williams Marked Man in KC

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox was a marked man today for Kansas City baseball fans.

They admire the way he hits, but not the way he spits.

It was during the fourth inning of the Red Sox-Athletics game Wednesday night that Williams grounded to Harry Simpson at first.

Williams started for the base but gave up less than half the way down and started for the dugout. The fans booed.

Williams spit once in their direction. This brought down a bigger chorus of boos. For the rest of the game—which ended with Kansas City 3-1 victory—everytime the spotlight was on Williams the fans booed.

There was no comment from Manager Mike Higgins about the case of Williams, who was fined $5,000 for a similar incident two years ago.

Williams left word with the telephone operator at the Hotel to take any calls.

Dispatches to Boston papers after the game reported the incident in some detail.

The Globe's Bob Holbrook wrote:

"He (Williams) jogged part way to first, saw the play was routine, and then made an abrupt turn and started back to the dugout. For his lack of fire on this play the Kansas City fans set up a crescendo of boos.

"Ted bristled and made his dying swan leap, spitting at the fans as he piquetted through the air. That's all the fans needed. They set up a thunderous round of boos, the spontaneity of which amazed the observers in this sector."

have been around people with hay fever know the misery."

Curiously, the whole field of allergies has received little public attention.

Answer to 'What to Do' Is Big as All Outdoors

By KAY SHERWOOD, NEA Staff Writer

There will be fewer complaints of, "What'll I do now, mama?" from the youngsters during the summer vacation if you plan outings aimed to acquaint them more closely with nature. Guiding a child's native curiosity to observe, identify and understand something of the natural world around him is rewarding immediately and may provide the foundation for a lifelong enthusiasm.

For homemakers like myself who are wondering how to start helpful advice comes from Miss Miriam Wood, chief of the Raymond Foundation at the Chicago Natural History Museum and director of the museum's children's program.

One of the projects for this summer is a museum "journey" to exhibit dealing particularly with nature around us. This is proving one of the most popular jaunts since the program started three years ago.

Miss Wood points out that an "outing" can be as close as one's back yard. It can, too, extend to the vacation by the shore or in the woods.

WE WANT TO BE CAREFUL about encouraging a child to start a collection. Wildflowers, for example, are protected by laws in some areas and are not to be picked.

We can encourage children to look closely at wildflowers on a country walk: to learn the names and the habitats of various blossoms.

Butterflies, on the other hand, are a favorite collectors' item. And says Miss Wood, they are so short-lived that there is little likelihood of anyone objecting to a child capturing butterflies.

To help your offspring and yourself get back to nature, little equipment is needed. Helpful, however, are pocket magnifying glasses, the better to study leaf insect or feather formation.

One entertaining exercise Miss

Wood suggests is to study one square foot of back yard, beach or woodland with a magnifying glass to see the numbers and varieties of insect life present.

Good field guides to identify of various flora, fauna, rocks and minerals are essential. Miss Wood suggests for a beginning naturalist a clearly written, pocket-size guide. There are several good ones available. If you're in doubt, ask your public librarian or write to a museum for a book list.

A notebook in which to record what you see day-by-day is another aid to making you and the children more observant.

Records can be brief, but they should include the date, what you saw, where you saw it, and, if it's a wildflower or tree, the type of place where it grows.

If you have both the notebook and the field guide you'll be more likely to record the sights.

Before you go too far afield, however, be sure you and the children know what harmful plants like poison ivy or poison sumac look like.

ALTHOUGH STATE and national laws protect many living things for conservation purposes, Miss Wood points out that it's often permissible to pick up leaves, nuts, feathers and other objects that have fallen to the ground.

Feathers are good studies for the magnifying glass, can be identified as to the bird from which they came and mounted on paper for keeping.

Beside learning something about the tree from which a leaf fell, use leaves to make leaf prints. Craft books at the library will tell you how.

Young rock-hounds, called by the museum's sympathetic directress "pebble pups," should be encouraged first to collect the specimens near home.

"The Middle East is one place where Christianity is not identified with the West and colonialism. After all, Christianity started there. It was there before Islam."

The word community is frequently heard in discussions of Middle East religions. To a large extent, Middle East life is organized around religious communities, which handle a surprising amount of their own civil as well as religious affairs—marriage, divorce, etc.

Each religious community of consequence is almost guaranteed a place in the government. In Lebanon, the president must be a Christian, the prime minister a Muslim. Former Syrian Premier Fawzi Al-Khoury is a Christian.

A—No. Under the law, allowances are paid some time after the end of each month of training completed, and not before. After the end of each month, you and your school will have to sign a certificate stating you were in class all month. VA is allowed up to 20 days, after receipt of certificate to send your check. How fares the Christian minority in the strife-ridden Moslem Middle East?

"Very well," says Dr. Alford Carleton, executive vice president of the Congregational Christian Churches' Foreign Mission Board. "In fact, the Christian Arabs are every bit as nationalistic as the Moslems."

"The current troubles are not taking religious lines," adds the Rev. Horace M. McMullen, who has spent 11 years in the Middle East. "Furthermore, I don't think they will."

Dr. Carleton and the Rev. Mr. McMullen both served as president of Aleppo College in Syria, the former for 17 years until 1954 and the latter for four years until he retired last July 1.

The five Arab states most closely linked to Arab nationalism—Iraq, Jordan, Egypt, Syria and Lebanon—have a total population of about 35 million. Nearly 10 per cent is Christian, mostly in the cities.

In Lebanon, Christians are in the majority with 54 per cent. Syria has a hefty Christian minority of 11 per cent. Egypt and Jordan 8 per cent and Iraq 3 per cent.

"The Arab leaders are conscious that they need both Christians and Moslems behind them," says the Rev. Mr. McMullen. "And they know that the Christian communities are loyal to

Home-Built Hamper Serves Real Need

The mounting pile of washables points up inadequacies in the hamper storage for soiled clothing. The many different fabrics and the varying washing procedures for each, plus the facts that automatic equipment has permitted the homemaker to pick the spot and the time to wash when it suits her, have an influence on selection of efficient hampers.

Important today, for example, with the delicate fabrics is that laundry hampers offer smooth-sided interiors to prevent snagging of fibers.

I'm not the only one who has wished for partitioned hampers so that soiled clothing could be automatically sorted into wash loads.

Ready-made hampers abound, of course, in all sizes and shapes and for the most part are intended for use in the bathroom or possibly the bedroom. I have seen only one or two partitioned hampers, however.

I WAS IN a receptive frame of mind, therefore, when a designer of projects for amateur handy men came up with an idea for a three-part hamper easy enough to make, neat and tailored in appearance and with the basic requirements of good hampers—smoothness and good ventilation—more than provided for.

Another feature of this hamper is that it rolls freely on two-inch casters.

This is an oversize hamper and the mobility means it can be pushed to the machine, keeping soiled clothing corralled and off the floor.

The interior is divided into

Homemade laundry hamper of perforated hardboard has three compartments, each painted a different color for quick identification of garments. Holes provide ventilation for clothing.

three sections and the perforated hardboard dividers slide into place in tracks formed by ½-inch quarter-round fastened with brads to the framing supports.

The hamper consists of a series of six lumber frameworks—identical ends, tops, bottoms and sides—with the perforated hardboard nailed on the inside except for the top, where hardboard is nailed over the frame.

It is assembled by fastening the front, back and ends to the bottom.

The hinged top is last to go into position. I would also add rubber bumpers to cushion the top especially if children use it

The hamper may be painted to blend with the color scheme or to add a new, bright note in a utility room.

The original model is particularly attractive because the three divisions are painted white, pink and red as a color code for types of clothes to be placed in the compartments.

Dimensions can be varied to suit space and family needs. If your household handy man, like ours, sees this as a project for the winter of 1955, it may comfort you to know that a professional carpenter told me it wouldn't cost very much in time and materials to build, especially if you do the painting.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

St. JOHN, called the "beloved disciple of Christ," was the only one of the original 12 apostles to escape martyrdom. A fisherman, he was mending his nets with his brother, James the greater, when Christ approached along the shore and promised to make them "fishers of men." The call to faith was immediately answered by the two brothers.

When Jesus died on the cross, He entrusted His mother to John's care, saying "woman, behold thy son," a tender avowal of the esteem in which John was held by his master. John, the author of the fourth gospel, is generally believed to have lived to a very advanced age.

Highway Secretary Makes Tour of Area

State Highway Secretary Maurice K. Goddard was in the Warren area Thursday inspecting highway projects, flood control measures on Glade Run and recreation spots.

Secretary Goddard expressed satisfaction with progress to date on the Pleasant Township Route 337 repairs. He also looked over Glade Run and commented that final costs of the flood control measures including dykes and flumes would amount to over $200,000.

The secretary expressed considerable surprise at the large number of bathers using the popular beach at Chapman Dam and announced the bridge over the spillway would be opened in about three weeks when concrete had hardened sufficiently.

Secretary Goddard and District Forester Charles Merthout then went on to Blue Jay Boys Camp where approximately 70 students from State College are taking a summer course.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather Raymond Moser who passed away two years ago tomorrow July 26, 1956.

One of life's most precious blessings

Was a Dad as dear as you;
You did so much to brighten life

In ways so great and small;
You had a smile for everyone;
A heart as pure as gold.

There's always a lonely heartache,
And often a silent tear,
But there are always precious memories

Of the days when you were here.
Sadly missed by wife
Vernus, daughters Connie and Janice and grand-children.

$1.50 Loot Brings Workhouse Term Of 10-20 Months

An 18-year-old Youngsville youth, with a record of five previous burglaries, was sentenced from 10 to 20 months in Allegheny Workhouse when he appeared in court this morning before Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr.

Total cash loot which Charles Rodgers obtained was $1.50 from a tax jar at Circle Bar-B-Q which he entered along with two 17-year-old companions who shared an equal amount June 29. One of the juveniles has been shipped off to Whitehall Reformatory.

Case against John Ishman of Clarendon who helped Rodgers hide out in a Yankee Bush barn was continued until September term of Quarter Sessions Court. Ishman is charged with being an accessory after the fact.

Also in court this morning, Judge Flick dealt with the first person to appear before him for turning in a false fire alarm, and reduced a sentence against a young man who had let a dog run loose in Enterprise.

William Eddy, about 20, of RD 2, Jamestown, was given a stern lecture by the judge this morning when he pleaded guilty to turning in a false alarm in Bear Lake July 5 to climax a drinking spree. Judge Flick pointed out that the maximum sentence for the offense was two years imprisonment and a $500 fine.

Eddy was given ten days in jail, fined $100 and costs. A similar charge awaits one of Eddy's five companions who was along when the alarm sounded at 3 a. m.

Twenty-three-year-old Orville McKenzie of Enterprise was in court with Attorney C. Henry Nicholson this morning appealing a jail sentence of 30 days handed out by Peace Justice Richard Williams of Southwest Township June 19 when McKenzie appeared before him on a charge of allowing his dog to run at large.

McKenzie testified that the mongrel was the pet of his 4-year-old daughter. Judge Flick overruled the sentence, gave the defendant a year in which to pay costs of about $30.

In other matters this morning, Judge Flick handed down identical sentences of three days in jail, fines of $100 and costs for three persons who were caught driving during a period of license suspension and two drunk drivers.

Driving during a period of suspension were Clair Anderson of North Warren, Robert C. Anderson of Warren and Frederick Wright of South Carver Street. In the latter instance, where the defendant was a two-time loser on the same charge, Judge Flick observed that an exemplary record during the past year was the only thing which saved the 17-year-old from a much more harsh sentence.

Spending the weekend in jail for drunk driving will be Vernier Bloomquist of Buena Vista Boulevard and Raymond Krosh of Bradford.

Magistrate Ralph Pusey said she was guilty of making a turn on a red light and should pay the fine. Mrs. Rexford B. Hersey said she was innocent. The professor, who teaches industrial relations at the University of Pennsylvania, said he was proud of his wife's principles. He wouldn't pay for her.

"I'll go to jail as a conscientious objector," Mrs. Hersey said at the hearing Thursday night, "just as the signers of the Declaration of Independence were willing to do for their principles."

Whereupon the magistrate gave up the argument and gave her the maximum sentence.

Mrs. Hersey's married daughter said her mother would keep busy in jail working on book reviews for local literary clubs.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A university professor's wife is in jail for three days on principle—rather than let a suburban magistrate talk her into paying a $10 traffic fine.

New Lady Lords Must Wear Expensive Robes

LONDON (AP)—Britain's four new lady lords—first of their sex to be admitted to membership in the upper house of Parliament—will have to wear the expensive robes of the peerage on ceremonial occasions.

The ruling came today from Sir George Bell, Garter knight of arms, who is the final authority on such matters.

Sir George said if the new lifetime peeresses don't want to buy the costly regalia, they can rent it for 8 pounds ($22.40) per occasion.

Sir George's ruling came after one of the new peeresses, Laborite Barbara Wootton, expressed hope that the robes could be dispensed with because of the cost.

Fulbright said his interpretation of U. S. insistence on sticking by the rules of the Security Council would mean that India's Nehru, Egypt's Nasser or Israel's Ben-Gurion would attend only as they might be invited by the Security Council.

Some authorities here reported that the President believes it should be up to the Security Council through its regular machinery at U. N. headquarters in New York to arrange the proposed extraordinary session of heads of government of the 11 member nations and to set the date.

Khrushchev had proposed a start Monday, but that is now obviously impossible. Some question remained whether French Premier Charles de Gaulle will be willing to attend at all, although dispatches from Paris indicated that he probably would.

Secretary of State Dulles, meanwhile, held to his plan to take off for Bonn, Germany, tonight on a schedule that calls for his absence from Washington until Tuesday.

Dulles will confer with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn for several hours Saturday afternoon and go on to London Saturday night for sessions of the Baghdad Pact Council.

The Council in advance of the summit meeting.

Qualified sources predicted today the outcome would be the seating of a representative of the new revolutionary regime on the 11-nation Council.

U. N. diplomats are anxious to avoid any East-West ruckus the very outset of a summit meeting. This could happen if the Council got bogged down in an argument over Iraqi representation.

Up to now the Council has not decided whether Hashim Jawad, here to represent the revolutionary regime, should take the place of Abdul Majid Abbas, who has been occupying Iraq's seat. Abbas' credentials were signed by Fadhil Jamali, former foreign minister now in jail in Baghdad.

If the revolutionary regime is recognized, the representative at the summit level would be the Premier, Brig. Gen. Abdel Karim Kassem.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices advanced in heavy early trading today.

Leading issues were up from fractions to a point or more. Most changes were small. There were a few losers.

The ticker tape was late for five minutes at the opening, falling behind transactions by as much as two minutes at worst.

American Motors raced ahead to a new high following its sharp increase in earnings. It opened at 14 1/2, up 1/2 on a huge block of 35,000 shares then rose to its new high of 15 on successive blocks of 7,500 and 10,000 shares.

Hearing Held on Minimum Wage Legislation Act

HARRISBURG (AP)—A hearing will be held in Dauphin County Court today on a suit to restrain the State Labor and Industry Department from issuing a new minimum wage order for women and children employed by hotels, motels and restaurants.

The suit was filed here Thursday by William S. Livengood, attorney for the five complainants. An earlier minimum wage order for women and children in the industries was successfully attacked in court on the grounds that witnesses at public hearings were not sworn and no cross-examination was allowed.

No new wage order has been filed but a new committee has been appointed and the first public hearing before the new committee is scheduled next month.

The suit asks for separate boards rather than one board for hotels, motels and restaurants. It also contends that women employees should be represented on the wage board by someone other than professional leaders.

The suit was filed by Harry J. Busch, Stone Lodge Motel, Mechanicsburg; Earl W. Wolfe and Sons Inc., New Cumberland R. D. 1; Hotel Edison Inc., Sunbury; Crestmont Inn Inc., Eagles Mere, and Fort Bedford Inn Co., Bedford.

O'Donnell, 37, lost all but the power to sight a fuzzy image when his eyes became infected while working at the Middletown air depot during the war as an air force crew chief.

"We will not know if the operation was a success for several weeks but I am sure that it was and my husband will come back with complete sight in that eye," Mrs. O'Donnell said.

She said the left eye also is practically incapable of transmitting anything but a blurred image. "The doctors said that if this operation is successful, they will try the same thing on the left eye in about two years," she added.

Last year O'Donnell was forced to resign from his job in a Sunbury department store when his sight failed almost completely. Since that time the family has been living on total disability checks received from the federal government.

Seeping Liquified Gas Routs 2,500 Residents

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Liquified gas seepage into water mains produced six explosions Thursday and kept residents in a state of jitters throughout the night.

Harried city officials haven't traced the source of the butane gas.

About 2,500 residents were ordered from their homes for a 6 1/2-hour period after the blasts, in which four persons suffered burns. None were in serious condition.

There was no mass exodus from this city of 45,000, twelve miles southeast of St. Louis. Homes in a 50-block area were evacuated, but most residents milled about on their front lawns and in the streets until the all-clear.

Worst damage was to a home of a family of six. The family was away when a blast knocked out one brick wall and shattered windows.

Fires which followed some of the blasts were extinguished quickly.

Huge Crowd Including 1838 Patients Entertained at the Annual Hospital Field Day

From the moment the world-famous Grove City Plaidettes swung across the perfectly groomed greensward of Warren State Hospital Athletic Field until the doctors crawled through the last inner-tube in the final act, the Hospital's annual Field Day on Thursday was a great success.

Without a hitch, 1,838 patients moved into the bleachers just before one o'clock in the afternoon after which the 14 events and the special entertainment were run off much to the delight of the large audience. The Plaidettes, twice State and twice national champions, and quite familiar to the patients, put on a program which won great applause.

Scheduled events were as follows: 50-yard dash for women, 75-yard dash for men, Paddling Madeleine Home for women and men, Duck and Dive for women, Snow Shoe Race for men, Tip-a-Top for women, Watermelon Eating for women and men, Barrel Roll, Roll Out the Barrel for women and men, Bring Home the Bacon for female employees and won by Mary Anderson, Tin Pan Alley for interment and won by Ron Zehner of Ridgway, Egg Toss for student nurses and won by Judy Blackwell and Janet Beardsley, both of Williamsport, Cage Ball for men employees, and Tight Squeeze for staff members and won by Drs. Abraham Halpern and Arno VonRuckteschell.

There was a great program of special entertainment. Technician Robert Simpson, as Miss America, rode onto the field atop the miniature "bubble" motor car of Dr. Retus Osborn, Simpson's skirts providing a canopy which completely covered the automobile. Technicians Simpson and Ed Gustafson, Field Day's perennial clowns, provoked much amusement. Young Al Buerkie of Warren, and Jim Tinelli of Clarendon, performed ably on the trampoline. Stephen Anderson, aged 10, of Russell, did some remarkable balancing by using a prancing ball and a teeter-totter. Billy Lehman's Band, assembled on a flat-bed truck, provided a varied program of rock-'n-roll.

Directors of Field Day were

$20,000 Derby Final At Buffalo Raceway

The richest single-dash event for pacers this year in Western New York will be presented tonight at Buffalo Raceway where the $20,000 Derby Final will go as the seventh race.

Tonight's rich feature is the climax of the $87,500 series for the point survivors from 4 preliminary legs. Munger Hanover head into the free-for-all with the highest number of qualifying points (25) and money earned ($16,200) to compete against Berrytime and Royal Melody, the other 2 leg-winners also returning for the title clincher.

Jack Ackerman will come from Michigan to handle Brown Valley Farm's Royal Melody, the top dash-winning pacer in 1957, from p. p. 4. Berrytime, second highest in point and Derby money, will have Bruce Nickells in the sulky in No. 5 post, directly inside Munger Hanover, driven by Levi Harner.

All 3 previous victors will take a back seat on the morning line in favor of Highland Laird, installed at the rail for driver Eddie Wheeler. N. B. Pratt's Silver Creek, N. Y. veteran paced the first 2-02 mile of the season at Hamburg and has consistently been clocked around that figure since May.

Among several other business positions, Olin is director of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. and a member of its executive committee.

He is a founder of Illinois' United Republican Fund and in 1954 served as national finance chairman of the National Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee.

Yankees Make It a Three-Game Sweep in Tiger Town

By ED WILKS
Ryne Duren, the New York Yankees' ace reliever, finally has been plunked.

A pitch by Paul Foytack felled the controversial rookie, frequently accused of throwing at batters, in the Yankees' 10-7 victory at Detroit Thursday. He apparently wasn't seriously injured—just a bruised and cut left cheek—but he'll stay in a hospital for several days for observation.

Duren's mates call him Mr. Magoo. Casey Stengel calls him "my blind man."

The rest of the American League calls the big right-hander with the thick specs less humorous things. They say he zeroes in before rifling his high, hard and inside stuff. Duren denies he deliberately throws at anyone. He's but two. The pitch from Foytack, who also throws hard, came on a two-strike, no-ball count in the ninth, after the Tigers had blown a 5-0 lead. Duren had worked two innings of perfect relief, dunking slugger Al Kaline with his first pitch.

The Yankees, blanked for six innings on one hit by Jim (No-Hit) Bunning, left Detroit for Cleveland with a three-game sweep and a 13½-game lead, their largest yet.

Baltimore whipped the Chicago White Sox 7-3 and moved within two games of second-place Boston, rained out at Kansas City. Cleveland smacked Washington 6-1.

Race in the National League Is Tighter Than Ever Today

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Is that really just a two-team race in the National League. Or aren't those St. Louis Cardinals dead after all?

While there's hardly any daylight from third to seventh in the race behind Milwaukee and San Francisco, the Cardinals appear to be the only club capable of a serious challenge, even with two months to go.

Trouble is, the Cardinals, just off their second seven-game slump of the season, still have to prove they're breathing. They've won four of their last six, and trail the slidding third-place Chicago Cubs by only half a game, but they're still fourth, 6½ games back.

Sad Sam Jones, seldom given much support, made the Cards look like winners Thursday, shutting out the Braves 4-0 with a four-hitter.

It was Sam's fourth consecutive victory, but he just managed to clear 500 with an 8-7 record. The Cards have averaged less than three runs in his defeats, have averaged less than four in the games he's won.

Despite a split in four games with the Cardinals, the Braves retained first place by a half game, since second-place San Francisco was rained out at Philadelphia. The Cubs lost their fifth straight 4-3 at Cincinnati. Pittsburgh whipped Los Angeles 5-3.

In the American League, the New York Yankees took their largest lead yet, 13½ games, with a 10-7 victory at Detroit. Second-place Boston was rained out at Kansas City. Baltimore beat the Chicago White Sox 7-3, and Cleveland defeated Washington 6-1.

The slipping Cubs, only 2½ games behind a week ago, blew a 3-2 lead when Ed Bailey rapped a two-run homer, his seventh, off losing reliever Bill Henry (2-1).

The Pirates, just .001 ahead of Cincinnati, gained a 13-7 season edge over Los Angeles. A four-run fourth, triggered by rookie Dick Stuart's two-run fifth homer, did it.

Brooklyn's beautiful new public swimming pool on Seventh avenue has been filled to capacity since opening day last spring. Some 127 children are taking part in free swimming instructions offered there. Six adults are also enrolled. The community took action for the pool, which is undoubtedly the nicest in this part of Pennsylvania.

Frank Thomas, Pirates' big slugger who has been leading National League in homers and RBIs almost all season, surpassed his 1957 HR-total (23) when he hit a pair of round-trippers in Chicago July 10. Frank is a virtual cinch to bat over 100 runs this year—thereby becoming first Pirate to turn the trick since he did it himself in his rookie season in 1953 with 102.

Another record Thomas has a good shot at this year, is National League "home-runs-on-the-road" mark of 30 set by Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews in 1953. Twenty of Thomas' first 25 HRs were hit on the road this year with a little less than half of his road games still remaining. Major league record is held by the late Babe Ruth—32 in 1927.

Struthers Wells Take One From Jones Chevrolet

Featuring seven runs in the fourth inning, Struthers Wells defeated Jones Chevrolet 11-8 in City Softball action Thursday evening on Memorial Field.

While Paul "Aggott" Viggo was silencing offensive guns of Jones boys during the first five innings, teammates were gathering a host of runs at the expense of Clyde Farnsworth.

In sixth and eighth innings, Sheffield got to Viggo for eight runs. "Ryne" Sturdevant came in to pressure the victory for Viggo.

Big guns for Struthers were Lou Berardi with 3-4 and five runs batted in; Bob Hammerbeck with a long home run.

Bires, Bonavita and Wyman each chipped in with 2 hits apiece.

For Jones, John Hoden with a solo blast and 3-4 swung big bat. This victory moved Struthers in sole possession of third place.

Monday, Struthers will tangle with Betts Machine at State Hospital, Youngsville National with Nino's Restaurant on West Side field.

Only Four Players in Shortshoe Finals

MURRAY, Utah (AP) — Only four players out of the field of 36 came through unbeaten Thursday as play began in the world championship horseshoe pitching tournament.

Each competitor played five matches in a field that has been split into two groups of 18 men each. The players play six matches today and six more Saturday. Then the top seven in each group will meet for a final round-robin Monday through Wednesday to decide the title.

Defending champion Ted Allen of Boulder, Colo., and Don Titcomb of Sunnyvale, Calif., last year's runner-up, led the field after Thursday's matches. Both had 5-0 records.

Mild Rhubarb Is Going in Detroit Over "Bean Ball"

DETROIT (AP)—The New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers had a mild rhubarb going today over the pitch that felled Yankee reliever ace Ryne Duren.

The 29-year-old right-hander, credited with 16 saves and a leading candidate for Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player awards, was hospitalized after he was struck high on the left cheek by one of Paul Foytack's fast balls in the ninth inning of Thursday's contest at Briggs Stadium.

The Yankees won the game 10-7 to complete a sweep of the three-game series, but Duren—who was credited with the victory—is to spend several days in a Detroit hospital. He suffered a bruise and a cut that required several stitches to close.

Doctors said X-rays were negative and that there was no cranial injury.

The Tigers denied the incident was deliberate but some of the Yankee players maintained that it was. One New York player said Foytack "looked into the Tiger dugout just before he threw the ball."

Duren, who had to be carried from the field on a stretcher, nearly hit the first Detroit batter he faced. His first pitch, a high inside fast ball, sent Al Kaline sprawling into the dirt. Just last week the Kansas City Athletics accused Duren of deliberately hitting slugger Bob Cerv.

Golfer Asks Court To Compute His Course Handicap

OSSENING, N.Y. (AP)—A golfer has asked the New York State Supreme Court to compute his golf handicap.

William W. Wacht, a member of the nearby Pines Ridge Golf Club, seeks a court order compelling the club's handicap committee to raise his handicap to 34 from its present 29.

The handicap committee decided recently to make an "adjustment" in Wacht's handicap in view of his record of tournament victories.

Wacht, 60, a former president of the club, is a four-times-a-week golfer. He averages near 90 in club tournaments, his fellow members say. In regular rounds he usually does 18 holes in 115.

Wacht says his game depends on the season of the year. "Generally I hit a short and straight ball. In August when the ground is hard, I get a better roll."

Swoon's Son Appears Favorite at Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — E. Gay Drake's Swoon's Son appears the likely favorite in Saturday's inaugural running of the $50,000 Michigan Sweepstakes at the Detroit Race Course — despite his poor showing in last weekend's Michigan Mile.

Most of the horses in last week's Michigan Mile were expected to be back on the track for Saturday's mile and 1-16th race.

Among competitors is E. P. Taylor's Nearctic, winner of the Mile in which Swoon's Son wound up out of the money.

Rickerson Twirls Rockets to Win Over Rollers 5-2

Intercity League leaders, Marlin-Rockwell, were handed their second loss of the season in Jamestown Municipal Stadium last evening, as big Ed "Winky" Rickerson twirled elegant six-hit ball for Warren Rockets, giving the Rollers a 5-2 defeat.

Rockets stacked the verdict in the first inning, mixing two singles and a double with three unguided Roller pegs to push over four runs, more than enough to win, as it proved. Their fifth tally, coming in the seventh, also was unearned.

Warren's four runs top of the first came on singles by Ed Reese and Rickerson, Joe Kulbacki's two-bagger, wild throws by Irv Carlson and Jim Hannon, and a dropped throw by Fulford. Their fifth counter grew from a leadoff walk to Rickerson, Earl Campbell's single, a fielder's choice and Clair Hammond's wild throw to first.

Rollers scored their first run in the fifth.

Rockets were informed that Art Metal's protest of their 11-6 defeat at the hands of Warren on July 16 had been upheld by the League's board of arbitration. The game will be played from the point of protest as part of a double header to be staged here in Warren Aug. 9.

Metalites' protest was based on the catch of a foul pop off the bat of Nick Creola in the sixth inning, when Rockets plated the run that tied the score at 6-all.

Weekend League action: Tonight, Dunkirk at Marlin Rockwell; Saturday, Jamestown Bombers at State Hospital vs. Rockets at 2 p. m.; Sunday, Moose at Ludlow, 2:30.

Commissioner of Pro Football Is Hearing Witness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League says pro football could stay alive with limited exemptions from the nation's business laws. Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) says pro sports can't be trusted with anything but limited exemptions.

Bell and Celler expressed their views on a House-passed sports bill Thursday as the Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee closed the football end of its hearings. The group headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) turns back briefly to baseball next week and then winds up with basketball, hockey and harness racing.

Signs are that the subcommittee will approve something less than the blanket antitrust law exemptions proposed in the House measure. Several members have suggested the bill goes too far. It is designed to remove doubts as to the legality of sports' player reserves and drafts, territorial and broadcast rights.

Celler has proposed that exemptions be limited to those a court would hold are reasonably necessary to the games. The House brushed aside his bill, voting instead the flat exemptions now under Senate study.

CHICAGO (AP)—Three young U. S. Curtis Cup team members and a 31-year-old mother of two tykes were grouped for semifinal action today in the Women's Western Amateur golf tournament.

The 18-hole round sends two Curtis Cuppers together, medalist Anne Quast of Everett, Wash., and Anne Richardson of Columbus, Ohio; and places the third squad member, Barbara McIntire of Jupiter, Fla., against Mrs. Paul Dye Jr., of Indianapolis.

In Thursday's quarterfinals, Miss Quast rolled in putts of 20, 15 and 22 feet for birdie wins in the clutch to outlast Clifford Ann Creed, Opelousas, La., 2 and 1.

Rademacher Gets Another Chance For Fame Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former amateur champion Pete Rademacher makes a second bid for professional boxing fame when he battles Zora Folley, top contender for the heavyweight crown, at 10 rounds or less tonight.

A companion 10-rounder features Mauro Vazquez, unbeaten Mexico City featherweight, and Enrique Aceves of Los Angeles. The experts give Rademacher, 1956 Olympic Games champion, a good chance to score an upset.

But Folley, 26, the pride of Chandler, Ariz., is a well-seasoned boxer with 45 pro bouts behind him. He has been whipped only twice, back in 1955.

Rademacher, 29, Columbus, Ga. created quite a stir last August when, in his first fight as a professional, he took on the champion of the world, Floyd Patterson. He was knocked out in the sixth.

Whether the winner of tonight's nationally televised bout will get a crack at Patterson is something only the champion's manager, Gus D'Amato, can say. And this Gus won't say.

Williams Fined $250 Smackers for Spitting Incident

CHICAGO (AP)—Red Sox outfielder Ted Williams today apologized for spitting at the fans during a Red Sox-Athletic game at Kansas City Wednesday night.

A statement released by Red Sox spokesmen in Williams' name said:

"I'm sorry I did it. I was so mad at the park that I lost my temper and afterward I was sorry about it. I'm principally sorry about losing the $250."

American League President Will Harridge fined Williams $250 Thursday, saying the Red Sox star's spitting was "conduct detrimental to the best interests of baseball."

Manager Mike Higgins refused to comment as the Red Sox arrived in Chicago for a three game series with the White Sox.

Williams spat in the general direction of booing fans when they thought he failed to show enough effort after his grounder was snagged by first baseman Harry Simpson for an unassisted putout.

Buc Pitcher Is Blazing Way as Winning Reliever

PITTSBURGH (AP)—While nobody's been noticing, diminutive relief pitcher Roy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates has been blazing his way to an outstanding year.

Thirty-year-old Face, 5-8 and 155 pounds, made his 35th relief appearance this season Thursday as the Pirates defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3 to move into fifth place in the National League.

Face has a 3-2 record and is credited with saving 14 games. He came on Thursday for the second day in a row to halt late inning surges. But the native of Stephentown, N. Y., likes to work often.

"It makes you sharper," Face claims. "It gives you better control and working stuff when you work often."

In 1955, Face appeared in 68 games, four short of a major league record.

Now Heavy Champ Offers Challenger Fat Guarantee

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

MONTICELLO, N.Y.—(NEA)—As Floyd Patterson concluded his preliminary training in the Catskills, Gus D'Amato stood on the porch of the white cottage off the Kutsher's Country Club golf course delivering his customary tirade against the International Boxing Club.

"Why," the crusading manager was asked, "are you guaranteeing Roy Harris, a rather untried and obscure contender, $100,000 to fight Patterson?"

"There's a new twist for you—the heavyweight champion assuring the challenger a fat purse for the privilege of taking a crack at the crown. D'Amato jumped at the opportunity to attempt to explain why he is jamming a match between a New York-developed titleholder and a young man who has never appeared professionally outside of Texas into a crowded Los Angeles sports calendar on Aug. 18."

"In the first place," he replied, "Harris is neither untried nor obscure. As for putting the match in Los Angeles, I have made many concessions, but felt I would be going a little too far in taking Patterson to Texas. And it was the IBC which jammed up the Los Angeles sports calendar as far as boxing is concerned."

"I SAID PATTERSON would fight three times this year, signed Harris in May with the intention of fighting him in June, but the Jim Norris crowd saw to it that we had to keep putting the date back. Meanwhile, the World Championship Committee announced that Patterson's title would be vacated if he did not defend it by September. The Monopoly hoped to see that our fight was put off until then, and with the title vacated, promote some sort of a championship match of its own."

"Los Angeles was flooded with fights—Tony Anthony-Cal Brad, Zora Folley-Pete Rademacher, Paul Jorgensen-Ricardo Moreno, Carmen Basilio-Art Aragon, etc. The Combination made sure that Al Weill did not get a license as a promoter. "But we're fighting anyway, and that's why I'm paying Harris $100,000. Let's say that we gave it to him just to be certain that he would not be deterred."

REMINDED THAT LOU VISCUSI, veteran manager of Harris, long has been associated with Octopus, Inc., the embattled D'Amato commented that he had been very cooperative.

And Harris' handler sees very good reasons for going along. "Unless Patterson is about to show that he is the great champion they tell us he is, then this kid, Harris, has a big chance against him," says Viscusi.

"Under the circumstances it would be silly for Harris to box anybody else. Patterson hasn't fought anybody as good as Harris. And maybe he can't fight as good as they say he can. What happens then? I got a kid who is hard to fight and has never yet had to go all out. Maybe I got a better fighter than Patterson. So, let's go and find out and get paid $100,000 for it."

Lou Viscusi is noted in the book busting business for making sharp deals. This is another one.

Late model stock car drivers of Independent Racing Association will be lining up for the green flag Saturday night at Stateline Speedway as they get in their last licks on the fast 1/4 mile before the big August 2 Championships.

One of the lads who will be closely watched this week is Brockway's top leadfoot, Squirt Johns. Currently runner-up in Stateline point standings, Squirt is a scant 36 points behind John Seely of Jamestown who has held the coveted leadship just two weeks. With 50 points going to the winner of tomorrow night's feature, Seely holds an uncomfortably small margin over such a formidable point getter as Johns.

Nor can Squirt relax any more than Seely, for he holds a bare eight point edge himself, over hard-driving gent from Wellsville who led the circuit till a couple of weeks ago, Dean Layfield. Dean is the only driver who has topped more than one Stateline feature this season, and he took no less than three before his luck took a turn for the worse.

Trailing Layfield by the smallest margin of all, a mere four marks, is last week's feature winner, Jim Patrick, also of Wellsville. Just fourteen points lower than Patrick are Jamestown's Ken Johnson and Marv Thorpe of Sugar Grove in a tie for fifteenth with so few points separating these top men, one thing is sure—each driver will be putting forth maximum effort Saturday night, as the boys scramble for a higher position on the point ladder.

Most persons can read uninterrupted for six hours without suffering eye strain or fatigue.

Skeet Shooters Are Gathering at Pontiac

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—The nation's top skeet shooters were gathering here today for the 1958 National Skeet Shooting Assn. world championships, to compete in a week-long tournament beginning Monday.

Some 450 skeet shooters, including a dozen five-man teams from U. S. Army installations at Weisbaden Germany, and from Hawaii, are expected for the tournament.

Defending high-over-all champion Alex Kerr of Beverly Hills, Calif., will be on hand to attempt a repeat performance.

EASTERN OPEN

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gary Player, the successful South African invader, and two domestic golfers desperately trying to regain the winning touch went into the second round of the Eastern Open Tournament today sharing the lead with 4-under-par 68s.

Deadlocked with Player were Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif., and Mike Fetchick, Yonkers, N.Y.

AP Motion Picture Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Now-a-days, an actor can't sit around and wait for his agent to call. He's got to get out and hustle for himself.
This is the credo of robust Jon Hall, and it is producing results. For instance:
1. Tahitian-reared Hall has long been a fan of island music. Finding some inspired combos in Hawaiian night spots, he moved his own equipment in and made hi-fi and stereophonic recordings. He brought them back to the States and sold the layout to Mercury Records, which will soon bring out "Hi-Fi in Hawaii."
2. A veteran of making movies in, under and above the water

("The Hurricane," "South of Pago Pago," "Aloma of the South Seas," etc.), he has long recognized the difficulty of filming underwater. The submerged cameras were bulky, required two or three men to handle, could film only a limited time.
So Jon went to work with associates and produced the Samson-Hall underwater camera, a lightweight affair that one man can easily adjust and operate. It will shoot four minutes of film and is quickly reloaded.
He will exhibit the camera at an engineering convention here and reports that camera makers, the Navy and film producers are interested in it.
3. Having prospered with the amazingly successful "Ramar of the Jungle" television series, Jon is devising another one, "The Seven Seas." This one will get him out of the jungle and into the briny. He has already shot thousands of feet of film underwater for the series with his own camera.
4. And when he can get a respite from all these activities, Jon will start developing his Makana Village, a resort hotel he plans to build on Maui Island in Hawaii. He has the plans all ready to go.

Belgium is the most densely populated country in Europe. Its 9 million citizens are contained in an area of 11,775 square miles.

Income Tax News

Most parents will not lose the $600 exemption they may claim on their Federal income tax returns for each dependent child spending the summer vacation at a part-time job, John H. Binger, District Director of Internal Revenue, said today.
Children who will still be under 19 years of age at the end of the year, and children who are full-time students, regardless of age, come under this special exemption rule of the Federal income tax law, he said.

Mr. Binger explained that who contribute more than half the support of a child in one of these categories may claim a dependency exemption regardless of the amount earned by the child.
He also had a good word for the working children. They are entitled to a $600 personal exemption and may be due a refund of part or all the Federal income tax withheld from their wages. They will have to file an income tax return, Mr. Binger said, claiming refund of any amount withheld in excess of the actual tax liability.

Any questions concerning individual cases can be answered at local Internal Revenue offices.
